Microsoft announces quantum computing leap with new chip

The US tech giant on Wednesday unveiled Majorana 1, the world's first quantum chip that uses a new type of material called topoconductor. The new chip, Majorana 1, will help build quantum computers capable of solving industrial-scale problems in years, not decades, Microsoft said. "Imagine a chip that can fit in the palm of your hand yet is capable of solving problems that even all the computers on Earth today combined could not!"

Lokayukta clean chit to Siddu, wife

BK LAKSHMIKANTHA @Mysuru

KARNATAKA Lokayukta has given a clean chit to Chief Minister Siddaramaiah, his wife Parvathi, and two others in the alleged scam in allotment of sites by Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA).

A notice was sent to complainant Snehamayi Krishna, an RTI activist, on Wednesday stating that he may challenge the Lokayukta probe report within a week before the designated magistrate.

The notice stated that the Lokayukta police conducted an investigation under various Sections of IPC, Prevention of Corruption Act, 1988, Benami Transactions (Prohibition) Act, 1988, and the Karnataka Land Grabbing Prohibition Act, 2011, against Siddaramaiah, Parvathi, Mallikarjuna Swamy (Parvathi's brother) and land owner Devaraj and found that the case came under civil dispute. BJP crosses gender Rekha for CM choice

To take oath at Ramlila Maidan today

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @New Delhi

IN a loaded prediction, a senior BJP leader had on Monday told this journalist, "Delhi me vikas ka ek naya 'rekha' kichna hai prime minister sahib ko" (The PM has to draw a new line of development in Delhi). The wordplay barely concealed the name of the eventual pick as chief minister-designate Rekha Gupta. How sure was he about it? The senior leader was emphatic: "Go, write it on a 100 rupee note."

He recalled that Prime Minister Narendra Modi had been urging the party to set an example for Nari Shakti by assigning a woman to lead the national capital.

Gupta's name was in circulation ever since exit polls predicted a stunning BJP victory. On Wednesday, the BJP Legislative Party elected her as the leader of the House. She will take her oath of office at Ramlila Maidan on Thursday.

A first-time legislator, Gupta has a strong RSS background. She also earned the respect of party MLAs and has experience in governance. She cut her political teeth as a student leader of the Delhi University before becoming councillor.

"She was found suitable for the post of chief minister, as the right candidate must have the respect of all MLAs. She is also a good listener," sources said.

Rekha Gupta after being elected BJP's new CM of Delhi | PARVEEN NEGI

Gupta's connect with the people and her performance as general secretary of the party's Mahila Morcha worked her favour. Other contenders for the role, such as Parvesh Verma, Satish Upadhyay, Ashish Sood, Pawan Sharma, and Shikha Roy, have less legislative experience than Gupta. Also, the Shalimar Bagh MLA enjoys popularity across various communities, including Jats (10% population), Vaishyas (8%) and others.

Sources said by giving her the baton, the BJP also sought to send a message to Bihar, where elections are due later this year. Baniyas in Bihar comprise around 30.26 lakh or 2.3% of the state's population, which gives them clout.

64% ROUTED VIA USAID; $20.1 MN ALLOCATED TO SPUR DEMOCRATIC PARTICIPATION

BULK OF AID WENT TO US HEALTH INITIATIVES

JAYANTH JACOB & JITENDRA CHOUBEY @New Delhi

UNDER the Joe Biden administration, the US provided $720 million in assistance to India over the past four years, with 64% allocated to health initiatives, mostly managed by the now-defunct USAID, and $20.1 million for democratic participation and civil society — a sector that is currently sparking political controversy in India over spending on voter turnout, according to an analysis of US government data by this newspaper.

Ranked between 4th and 5th among 15 South and Central Asian countries, India's share of US assistance over the past four years was 35% less than Pakistan's $970 million, and significantly higher than China's $49.7 million during the same period.

However, in South Asia, Bangladesh received $1.89 billion, nearly 162% more than India. However, in 2022, India received $20 million more than Pakistan, totalling $250 million in aid, primarily due to post-COVID initiatives.

The health sector received a total of $462 million in the past four years for various programmes, including fighting HIV-AIDS administered through USAID.

Elon Musk, involved in the White House's efforts to reduce the size of the federal government, had previously called the USAID "a criminal organization" and claimed that Trump had agreed to shut it down.

Sanjeev Sanyal, the government's economic advisor, had accused USAID of playing a secret role in influencing policy in the health and social sector.

"Those concerned about USAID's interference in Indian elections should be equally concerned about USAID's tentacles in India's medical system and social policies. USAID effectively ran India's National Family Health Survey from the 1990s till it was stopped two years ago," he said.

Musk's figure of $21 million spent on the Indian elections aligns with the US data on money earmarked for democratic participation and civil society efforts in India.

In the 2024 election year, the US allocated $5.5 million toward voter turnout initiatives, with an additional $6.1 million spent in 2023 under the same category. Over the past four years, the total commitment for democratic participation was $20.1 million, of which $13.25 million was disbursed. However, the data does not specify the end beneficiaries.

"Why are we giving $21 million to India? They have a lot more money. They are one of the highest taxing countries in the world in terms of us; we can hardly get in there because their tariffs are so high," Trump told reporters.

Fresh 25% tariff may hit Indian pharma firms

ARSHAD KHAN @New Delhi

US President Donald Trump's plan to introduce 25% tariff on imports of automobiles, semiconductors, and pharma could be bad news for India.

While the impact on Indian semiconductor sector is expected to be negligible as the industry is still at a nascent stage, the tariffs could inflict pain on pharma firms for whom the US is the largest export market.

As for India's auto industry, only 0.2% of car exports go to the US. However, higher levies on auto parts could deal a blow as the auto components segment grew 7% to $11.1 billion in the first half of FY25, with North America accounting for 31% of exports.

Pharma exports to the US reached $8.73 billion in Financial Year 24, accounting for 31% of the industry's total exports, according to the Pharmaceuticals Export Promotion Council of India (Pharmexcil) data.

Indian drugmakers expect some impact as the industry heavily relies on American demand for growth.

Sun Pharma generated 32% of its total revenue from the US in fiscal 2024. Similarly, North America contributed 47% of Dr. Reddy's total sales and 30% of Cipla's revenue during the same period.

At present, there is no import duty on Indian pharmaceuticals in the US.

‘What happened to infra cess collected by state’

Govt levied cess on every property registered from 1996-2003

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

METRO FARE HIKE

CONTINUING with its demand for a complete rollback of the hiked Metro train ticket rates, a commuter association on Wednesday demanded to know what happened to the cess collected by the State government for a decade for infrastructure projects in Karnataka, including Namma Metro. The Bangalore Metro Commuters Association (BMCA), which has collected over 10,000 signatures against the hike and submitted it to the Bangalore Metro Rail Corporation Limited (BMRCL) plans to hold a citizens convention on February 23 to discuss the future course of action that commuters need to adopt to achieve their objective.

VN Rajashekhar, a member of BMCA, which is affiliated to Save Bangalore Committee, told newspersons that from 1996 upto 2003, the State government had levied a small cess on every litre of petrol/diesel or on every property registered in Karnataka calling this a Special City cess for infrastructure purposes. “The cess was also intended to fund BMRTL, the precursor to BMRCL, which was created in 1994. As per data collected, in the financial year 2002-2003 alone, a total of Rs 403 crore has been collected and in today’s terms this would be equivalent to over Rs 1,400 crore. BMCA demands a white paper on this whole affair of cess collection,” he said.

Reiterating that when the fare hike is being contemplated only the daily operational costs of BMRCL must be taken into account and not the overall infrastructure cost, Rajashekhar said the wages of the daily wage worker needs should also be taken into consideration as the base and fares set accordingly. “In the popular Paris Metro, one can buy a ticket for 2.5 Euros and use that to travel by train and by bus for an entire day,” he pointed out.

Another member Rajesh Bhat said, “The fare hike implemented is both irrational and unscientific and unprecedented in the country. There is no rationale behind the abnormal hike when BMRCL clocked operational profits of Rs 129.3 crore for 2023-2024 preceded by an operational surplus of Rs 108 crore in 2022-2023 and expects the operational profit to touch Rs 200 crore figure in 2025-2026.”

Reiterating that cost of the project, the money for debt servicing, interest payment and depreciation cannot be recovered from the commuters, Bhat queried, “Will the cost of building the Vidhana Soudha be recovered from the MLAs having their offices there?”

The online petition was submitted to BMRCL MD Maheshwar Rao on Monday (Feb 17), he added. The convention will be held on Sunday at the Scouts and Guides Hall (next to Maharani Cluster University) with transport experts, intellectuals and commuters taking part. It will be held from 11 am to 1.30 pm.

SPECIAL CLASSES TO BOOST SSLC RESULTS

Bengaluru: To enhance SSLC results in Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike high schools, BBMP has introduced special morning and evening classes, particularly for migrant students, to improve their Kannada language skills. A total of 33 high schools fall under the BBMP across the eight zones, with 7,398 students enrolled for the academic year 2024–25, including 3,148 boys and 4,248 girls. Necessary steps have already been taken to improve students’ academic performance, and teachers have been instructed to follow a structured teaching approach. In view of the PUC Exam-1, scheduled from March 1 to 20, and the SSLC Exam-1, scheduled from March 21 to April 4, BMTC will provide free bus services for students. Students appearing for PUC Exam-1 and SSLC Exam-1 are allowed to travel for free from their place of residence to their examination centres.

FIRE DEPARTMENT WELL-EQUIPPED, BUT GAPS REMAIN

RISHITA KHANNA @ Bengaluru

TRIAL BY FIRE PART-1

SHORT circuits, cylinder blasts, or other unexpected triggers -- fires don’t come with disclaimers. But is our Fire and Emergency Services department truly capable of handling a situation like the Carlton Towers blaze? Officials say they are almost there, but gaps remain, which they are working to close.

Uday Vijayan, managing trustee and president of Beyond Carlton, a people’s initiative for fire safety, said that since the Carlton Towers fire in February 2010 — which claimed nine lives and injured 70 — the fire department has made significant upgrades. “From setting up fire stations to acquiring modern emergency equipment and skilled personnel, there has been progress. However, the real gap lies in how people unknowingly violate safety norms or take risks, making their surroundings vulnerable to fire incidents,” he said.

Many buildings receive clearance, but violations begin once people move in, often in the name of modifications. This is largely because residents are unaware of what can increase the risk of fire, he added. Vijayan told TNIE the fire department has introduced a mandatory clearance procedure, requiring buildings to undergo inspection every two years to check for any violations done over time. However, he stressed that awareness — especially knowing what to do first when a fire breaks out — must now be the department’s top priority. “The man on the spot is key. If prevention is focused on, rather than just fighting fires, every place can be made safe and incidents can be prevented,” he added.

DOs & DON’TS

- Leave the building immediately, using the nearest exit
- If smoke is present, stay close to the ground where the air is cleaner
- If the fire is small and contained, use a fire extinguisher. Follow the PASS method: Pull the pin to unlock the nozzle, Aim the nozzle at the base of the fire, Squeeze the handle to release the extinguishing agent, Sweep the nozzle from side to side until the fire is out
- Never use an elevator during a fire as it could malfunction or become a trap
- If a door feels hot, do not open it — there could be a fire on the other side

Fire dept to acquire robots

Former DGP, Fire and Emergency Services, Kamal Pant told TNIE the department is in the process of acquiring specialized robots to handle fires in high-risk areas, where it’s too dangerous for firefighters to enter. These robots will be deployed in situations where the fire is extremely intense, such as the Anekal incident, where cracker godowns were completely engulfed in flames. In such cases, robots will be able to enter hazardous zones, suppress the flames, and create a safer environment. This will allow firefighters to enter the area and contain the remaining fire, reducing the risk to human lives while ensuring quicker and more efficient firefighting operations.

Pant explained that the department is also equipped with high-rise platforms, which are specialized ladders capable of reaching heights of up to 120feet, and even more in certain cases. He added that these platforms, along with high-capacity water tankers and specialised rescue tools, enhance the department’s ability to tackle fires in tall buildings and challenging situations. He said every taluk is now equipped with a fire station, ensuring faster response time to fires, no matter the location.

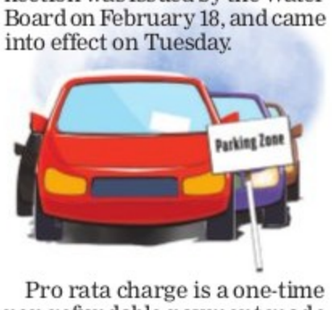
To enhance its capabilities, the department has increased the number of fire stations across the state, aiming for a minimum response time of 10 minutes to reach the sites. Each station is equipped with advanced vehicles and equipment to address fire risks and emergencies. The department has also integrated fleet management and GPS technology into all emergency vehicles, ensuring efficient dispatch and real-time tracking during crises.

Officials said the RA Mundkur Fire and Emergency Services Academy in Bengaluru serves as the training centre for all fireman, and is the department’s training institution, offering programmes that cover fire prevention, firefighting techniques, rescue operations and evacuation drills.

Pro rata charges for car parking slashed to Rs 200 per sqm

S LALITHA @ Bengaluru

IN a move that would help lakhs of consumers across the city who apply for new water connections, Bangalore Water Supply and Sewerage Board (BWSSB) has slashed the existing pro rata charges to be paid for car parking space in the basement, stilt and ground floor by 50 per cent. The new rate would be Rs 200 per square metre of the built-up area in these spaces. A circular in this connection was issued by the Water Board on February 18, and came into effect on Tuesday.



Pro rata charge is a one-time non-refundable payment made for water and sanitary connections by house owners at the time of obtaining a new connection. It is calculated based on per square metre of built-up area of the property.

BWSSB Chairman Ram Prasath Manohar told TNIE, “There is much ambiguity prevailing on how to calculate car parking space in the basement, stilt or ground floor. Some engineers levy Rs 400 per sqm while some levy Rs 200 per sqm. To help house owners, we have decided to fix it at Rs 200 per sqm This will benefit lakhs of people who opt for new water and sanitary connections from February 18.”

Asked about house owners who have already paid a higher sum, he said, “It will come into effect from the day of issue of the circular, and not retrospectively.”

The circular states, “In case of parking area, basement/stilt/ground floor which are not utilisable for domestic or non-domestic purposes by the consumer, for such built-up area 50% of pro rata charges shall be specified under sub-regulation (3). It shall be levied and collected by the Board on the total built-up area.” It added that the Board meeting on January 7, 2025, had given consent for this.

Some engineers levy Rs 400 per sqm while some levy Rs 200 per sqm. To help house owners, we have decided to fix it at Rs 200 per sqm This will benefit lakhs of people who opt for new water and sanitary connections from February 18- BWSSB Chairman Ram Prasath Manohar

SUPPLY TREATED WATER FOR NON-POTABLE NEEDS: ACTIVISTS

A man waters the rose garden at Cubbon Park in Bengaluru on Wednesday. While BWSSB has prohibited the use of potable water for non-drinking purposes, what water is the government using to maintain gardens? | SHASHIDHAR BYRAPPA

AKNISREE KARTHIK @ Bengaluru

WHILE the Bangalore Water Supply and Sewerage Board (BWSSB) has prohibited the use of drinking water for car washing, gardening, and other non-drinking purposes, warning that violations will incur a fine Rs 5,000 fine-- citizens and water experts are questioning why the board isn’t supplying treated water for these needs. They argue that the treated water supplied to each house in a separate pipeline will reduce the burden on the Cauvery River and address Bengaluru’s water shortage in the long run.

Currently, the water board supplies treated water via tankers for construction, industries, and bulk consumers through a pipeline system.

Citizen activist and founder of Bengaluru Praja Vedike NS Mukunda empahsised that instead of exploring costly alternatives like bringing water from Yettinahole, the government should focus on supplying treated water for non-potable needs through dedicated pipelines–just as it does for drinking water.

Mukunda estimates that laying a separate treated water pipeline could cost over Rs 6,000 crore but insists that this is inevitable. “Countries like Australia have already adopted this. Given Bengaluru’s growing population and increasing pressure on Cauvery River water, supplying treated water will curb groundwater exploitation and reserve raw Cauvery water for agriculture.”

He suggested that a part of the money for the treated water supply project should aim to create awareness about water scarcity and make people understand that it is impossible to keep drawing raw water from Cauvery in proportion with the swelling population. “Cauvery water should be supplied only if households commit to using treated water for non-potable needs. Whether today or tomorrow, this transition is necessary,” he said.

Water expert Ram Prasad, who is also the co-founder of Friends of Lake said that supplying treated water in separate pipelines is very much possible but expressed disappointment that the water board has not yet completed the Cauvery water supply to all Bengaluru households. In chorus with Mukunda’s view, Prasad said that people should be convinced to use treated water.

While BWSSB Chairman Ram Prasath Manohar was not available for comments, a senior BWSSB official, who did not wish to be named, maintained that the cash-strapped board is already contemplating to hike the water tariff to meet the operational expenses. “It is inevitable that one day we will have to depend on treated water. However, the board is currently not in a position to take up such big-ticket projects.”

PETER VIDAL

20TH February : Thursday is a lucky day – for people who like hard work! After all, luck only comes in relation to who we are and what we are doing. If you are a happy-go-lucky gambler, life is less likely to go your way. According to some astrologers, people in love should get married on Thursday, if they want the best possible start.

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
You have every right to be pleased with your prowess at work. However, over the next few days you will have to face up to a number of hard choices which will affect your personal life and colour the way other people see you. Yet nobody at the moment seems to be able to grasp the real truth.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
Is there some way in which you can rearrange your work to reflect your creative aspirations? Certainly there are many intriguing ideas afoot, all of which could form the basis of an interesting experiment. If you have any doubts or questions, you might not get the right answer until next week.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
You can ignore family pressures or domestic irritations no longer. Today’s steamy Lunar angle will give you the chance to deal with all long-delayed questions. Don’t expect instant agreement or approval though, as it’s just one of those times when everyone has their own opinion.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
Important discussions may be more difficult than you anticipate. The simple reason is that everybody seems to place such unrealistic hopes on the outcome. Stick to your guns for now, otherwise partners will imagine that you’re a right old push-over.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
The financial news may not be what you expected, but the net result could be positive if it enables you to reorganise your affairs. There are some commitments which cannot be changed, but you still have some room for movement. In love, it’s time to tell someone how you feel about them. You can keep quiet no longer.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
Your current planetary aspects will offer you a shot in the arm, shaking you out of any complacent corners or ruts you’ve been hiding in. Don’t expect dramatic events just yet - you may have to wait a few more days before the lie of the land is clear.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
Something may happen to worry or upset you. Perhaps you will feel that other people are blaming you unfairly for things you haven’t done. However, such concerns are illusions which will be dispelled when the facts are known. But that might not be until late next week.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
You’ll enjoy social activities all the more if you are ready for anything and happy to join in without worrying about the consequences. Don’t be hung up on excessively conventional standards of behaviour. Instead, you may try to carve an individual path for yourself.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
It is professional rather than private affairs which are the focus of your concern today. The last thing you want to do is get involved in a quite unnecessary public slanging match, so watch your step. You may not be in the wrong but, then, nobody will care whose fault it is!

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
The planets are on your case so to speak. The cosmos is expecting you to do your duty by combining self-interest with your higher principles. Quite apart from such lofty questions, you are still experiencing powerful travel stars. You may even go exploring new lands.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Check out new investment opportunities, and don’t be unduly concerned if a previous course of action now appears to be distinctly unpromising or unprofitable. You’ll act fast but keep your options open, just in case circumstances change as fast for you as they have done for others.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
There’s a burst of turbulence in the cosmic atmosphere today, so expect stormy weather emotionally. Even if you keep your cool, partners are determined to pick a fight or provoke you somehow. You can always escape by going along way away, or at least round the corner!

DOC'S PLAINT: WOMAN SOUGHT PRESCRIPTION TO KILL MOM-IN-LAW

Also claims it could be an attempt to trap him

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

A city-based doctor filed a complaint against a woman for seeking a prescription to kill her mother-in-law. Sanjaynagar police are on the lookout for the suspect who is said to have switched off her mobile phone after the doctor warned her that he would report the matter to the police. The suspect even deleted the chat messages. However, the doctor had managed to take screenshots of the chats which he submitted to the police for investigation.

Dr Sunil Kumar Hebbi of Dr Hebbi's Clinic in Bhadrappa Layout, filed the complaint on Monday. He reportedly received a WhatsApp message on Monday at 2pm, greeting him with a 'Hi', and responded to it. The suspect introduced herself as Sahana, and said she was from Bengaluru and claimed that she had got his number on social media.

She sought to communicate in Kannada, and he too replied to her messages in Kannada. When Dr Hebbi asked her about her health concerns, she said she wanted to confide in him about an issue. When he instilled confidence in her, she asked him to prescribe tablets to kill her aged mother-in-law who was harassing her, and said she couldn't undergo the torture any more.

The doctor, who spoke to the media, said he told Sahana that a doctor's duty is to save lives and not to kill. He also told her she had got his phone number but was misusing it, but she pleaded for the prescription. When he refused, she messaged him repeatedly, asking for the name of any killer tablets.

Dr Hebbi claimed that it could also be an attempt to trap him as he is engaged in social activism and has faced opposition. He said the suspect was not familiar to him and their conversation had lasted just five minutes. The woman is also said to have apologised and requested him not to report the matter. The suspect did not have her display picture on WhatsApp.

HC upholds ₹1.37 cr awarded in 3 electricity accident cases

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court has upheld a single judge's award of a Rs 1.37-crore compensation in three electricity accident cases. Rejecting the contention of the Karnataka Power Transmission Corporation Ltd (KPTCL) and Bangalore Electricity Supply Company (Bescom) that the compensation is on the higher side, a division bench of Justice V Kameswar Rao and Justice C M Joshi upheld the single judge's order dated August 4, 2022.

"We hold the present appeals filed by the appellants as without any merit and liable to be dismissed. We order accordingly," the bench said.

A single judge had directed KPTCL and Bescom to pay a compensation of Rs 1.37 crore to two minors and the wife of a victim for electricity-related injuries and electrocution, respectively.

In the first petition by Rekha, wife of N M Subramanya from Sakleshpur taluk, the single judge directed KPTCL to pay her Rs 25.52 lakh. Subramanya (36) was electrocuted after coming in contact with a feeder line while harvesting pepper using an aluminium ladder.

In the second case, the court ordered Bescom to pay Rs 54.26 lakh to K Chandana (15) of Lottegollahalli in Bengaluru. She is the daughter of an autorickshaw driver. On October 19, 2017, she came in contact with an electric line when carrying an iron mop while climbing the stairs in her house and sustained injuries, resulting in amputation of her left elbow.

In the third case, KPTCL was directed to pay Rs 57.32 lakh to Muizz Ahmad Sharif (7), son of a contract worker, from Gurappanapalya in Bengaluru. On September 16, 2017, he suffered 80% burns and 40% deep injuries after coming in contact with a high-tension line while jumping from the terrace of his house to a neighbouring building to retrieve a cricket ball.

Two-storey building tilts in Thippasandra

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

A two-storey building partially collapsed in Thippasandra in Jeevan Bhima Nagar police station limits on Wednesday evening. The five occupants of the building managed to escape as the building started tilting. No casualties were reported.

The lower portion of the building gave way, and it slightly leaned precariously to the right. The fire and emergency services department received a call around 4.58 pm and two fire tenders from Mayo Hall and Mahadevapura, along with an SDRF team, rushed to the spot.

According to a senior fire officer, preliminary investigations suggest that the collapse was caused by foundation work being carried out on an adjacent site. As the collapsed structure was old, the excavation work may have weakened its stability. The fire department, along with the BBMP, is currently clearing the debris.

The police said the building housed five occupants who were staying there on rent. A store was also located on the premises. According to them, they heard "cracking" sounds and immediately ran out of the house.A few two-wheelers parked on the premises were damaged. No FIR has been registered yet. Further investigations are on.

Hyd doctor jumps into TB river to swim, goes missing

AMIT S UPADHYE @Koppal

A day after a doctor from Hyderabad went missing after jumping into the Tungabhadra river in Sanapur, Koppal district, the administration has called in an expert team for the rescue operation.

A senior district official stated that both the State Disaster Response Force (SDRF) and National Disaster Response Force (NDRF) have been called in for assistance. Local steel plants and factories have been roped in to provide equipment, including underwater cameras, for the rescue effort.

On Tuesday, Ananya Rao, 26, arrived at a homestay in Sanapur village with two friends. She decided to go swimming in the river. A video of her jumping in without any safety gear or life jacket has gone viral.

Local tour operators claimed the organizing staff discouraged Ananya from jumping, as the water flow had increased after release from the dam. Over the past few days, the Tungabhadra Dam has been discharging excess water to Andhra Pradesh, leading to higher water levels.

"Ananya insisted on jumping without a life jacket, stating that she had done similar jumps before. The rock she jumped from is 20 feet high, and the water flow was strong. The organizers requested her to wear a life jacket, and while the staff was collecting the gear, she jumped. So far, there has been no trace of her," said a tour operator from Sanapur.

A district official said efforts are on to trace her. "We are also investigating what went wrong at the tourist spot. There are clear safety guidelines for tourists entering the water."

BJP MOCKS LOKAYUKTA CLEAN CHIT, SAYS IT'S 'BIASED'

LoP says Cong leaders who eyed CM's chair will now lose their sleep

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE opposition BJP has termed the Lokayukta clean chit to Chief Minister Siddaramaiah, his wife BM Parvathi and two others in the alleged MUDA scam as "expected" and "biased".

Leader of the Opposition in the Assembly R Ashoka told reporters that Lokayukta officials will now submit their report to the court, blaming the scam on MUDA officials. "The court need not expect the report. If the court rejects it, an investigation will be conducted again. We have faith in the judiciary," he said and quipped that Congress leaders who had dreamt of becoming the CM will now lose their sleep.

"If there is no involvement of Siddaramaiah in the scam, why did he surrender the sites? The Lokayukta gave the clean chit to the CM saying that there was not sufficient proof to substantiate the charges. Has the land been automatically converted? The Lokayukta report will mention that MUDA officials are at fault in the case. Even before this case was registered, specific officials had occupied strategic places in the Lokayukta. This is a pre-planned report," Ashoka said. The truth will come out only if the CBI investigates the case, he added.

He said BJP leaders will meet on Thursday to discuss the next course of action. "Siddaramaiah's efforts to bury the truth and jeopardise justice will not succeed. Justice may have been delayed, but it won't be denied. Truth and truth alone will win."

Leader of Opposition in the Legislative Council Chalavadi Narayanaswamy said if the MUDA case is given to the CBI, the truth will prevail. "Our fight against the MUDA irregularities will continue. We will discuss taking legal action," he told reporters.

He also pointed out that Siddaramaiah enlisted the country's top lawyers to defend him in the case. "They had paid money worth the 14 sites to the advocates," he said.

Earlier in the day, Union Minister H D Kumaraswamy had predicted that the Lokayukta would give a clean chit to Siddaramaiah. "Can the probe by the Lokayukta be called a probe? The inquiry officer should get a clearance from his higher ups before filing a report. Can those who work under the CM give a report against him?" he had said.

It's proven case was politically motivated, says Ponnanna

Legal adviser to the CM A S Ponnanna said the Lokayukta clean chit has proved that the case was politically motivated. "The CM and others have been proved innocent. The Karnataka High Court has said that the Lokyukta probe is transparent. Is H D Kumaraswamy above the court?" he said.

I will continue my legal fight, says Snehamayi

THE notice said no sufficient proof was found to substantiate the charges against Siddaramaiah, his wife and two others. The probe found no criminal wrongdoing by them. The Lokayukta will submit its final report to the high court.

The Lokayukta police stated that compensatory land allotment made by MUDA between 2016 and 2024 under its 50:50 scheme is being investigated. A report will be submitted to the court under Section 173 (8) of the CrPC after completing the probe. Lokayukta's clean chit has come as a big relief to Siddaramaiah with the high court recently rejecting Snehamayi Krishna's plea to transfer the case to CBI.

Reacting to the notice, Krishna said he had expected the same from the Lokayukta police. "The Lokayukta notice states that there is no proof to substantiate my allegations. Then, did I give them garbage? The CM is accused No 1 in the case. Therefore, it has proved that government officers under the CM naturally came to his rescue. The Lokayukta officials acted against their conscience and defended the corrupt. They even deceived the Supreme Court. I will continue my legal fight. I will initiate action after studying the 'B' report submitted by the Lokayukta police," he said.

Krishna submitted a petition to Governor Thaawarchand Gehlot, who gave his approval to probe Siddaramaiah a few months ago. On September 27, the special court issued a directive to file an FIR against Siddaramaiah, his wife and two others. A team of Lokayukta sleuths headed by SP TJ Udesha conducted an investigation. They questioned many officials from MUDA and other departments, politicians and others and submitted a report to Lokayukta IGP A Subramanyeshwara Rao a few days ago.

BJP, JDS used Snehamayi to defame CM, says Lakshmana

KPCC spokesperson M Lakshmana said Siddaramaiah got a clean chit from the Lokayukta police in the MUDA case.

"BJP and JDS leaders tried to tarnish Siddaramaiah's image through Snehamayi Krishna. Now, Krishna should honour the investigating agency's report. We will support Krishna in his struggle to expose the MUDA site allotment scam, but he should give up his fight against the CM. At least now, Krishna should make public who had instigated him to lodge a false complaint against the CM and his family members," he said.

Milk price to be hiked by ₹5/litre after state budget

BOSKY KHANNA @ Bengaluru

COME March, tea, coffee, curd and other milk items will cost more, with the cost of milk per litre set to be hiked. Soon after the state budget on March 7, the price of a litre of Nandini milk will increase by Rs 5. The quantity of milk will also be reduced from the existing 1,050 ml to one litre. With this, the cost of a litre of Nandini toned milk will increase to Rs 47.

This will be the next big hike the Karnataka Milk Federation (KMF) has initiated in the last three years. Earlier, in 2022, the milk price per litre was hiked by Rs 3 per litre. In 2024, the KMF hiked the milk price by Rs 2 per packet and increased the quantity per packet by 50ml. However, KMF continues to maintain that the price rise in 2024 was not a hike as the quantity of milk supplied had also increased.

The hike in milk prices will be another blow to citizens after the coffee brewers association announced increasing the price of coffee powder by Rs 200 per kg by March. The ticket rates of BMTC buses and Namma Metro have also been hiked. The state government is also working on increasing the water tariff. The electricity supply companies (escoms) have also appealed to the Karnataka Electricity Commission, to hike the power tariff by 67 paise for the coming financial year.

KMF Managing Director B Shivaswamy told The New Indian Express, the farmers have demanded a Rs 5/litre hike. The final decision now rests with the chief minister. It will come into effect after the state budget.

"Earlier, we were procuring 85-89 lakh litres a day. It had also gone up to 99 lakh litres a day and more. Now, we are getting 79-81 lakh litres a day, so the additional milk supplied to consumers will stop," Shivaswamy said, adding that the hiked milk price in Karnataka of Rs 47 will still be less than that of other brands in Karnataka and other states, besides those sold online.

The KMF is now holding talks with farmer unions, milk unions, employees associations and other stakeholders on the cost-sharing model of the hiked milk price. "Ideally, the increased cost should go to the farmers, but in recent times, the employees union have raised financial concerns over multiple issues, including the 7th Pay Commission wages and pensions. All this needs to be calculated," a KMF official said, requesting anonymity.

Revenue Minister Krishna Byre Gowda observes the workings of a new tech-based rover that is aimed to expedite and simplify the land survey process, in Bengaluru on Wednesday | NAGARAJA GADEKAL

These rovers to make land surveys a lot easier

BENGALURU: Revenue Minister Krishna Byre Gowda distributed tech-based rovers to 465 land surveyors on Wednesday. Gowda said the traditional method of surveying land has relied on chain measurements for ages, where surveyors, along with two assistants, had to work under the scorching Sun. "While the traditional survey mechanism takes 70 minutes and drafting the map needs another three hours, these rovers can complete the process within 10 minutes," he said. Further, Gowda mentioned that survey work in the state was conducted only between 1830 and 1870, with limited resurveying done in 1967. Other than that no major surveys have taken place. "It is shocking that even today, the same chain survey method used since 1806 is still in practice," he added. ENS

Anna Bhagya beneficiaries to get 10kg rice from this month

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE state government will start distributing 10kg of rice to beneficiaries of Anna Bhagya scheme from this month.

Till now, they were getting 5kg of rice and Rs 170 per person for the remaining 5kg under the scheme.

Food and Civil Supplies Minister KH Muniyappa told reporters here that the Congress had promised to provide 10kg of rice in its manifesto for the Assembly elections. Due to unavailability of rice, the Congress government could only distribute 5kg. In Karnataka, there are 1.53 crore ration card holders and 5.36 crore Anna Bhagya beneficiaries.

Muniyappa said for 2023-24, the state needed 27.48 lakh metric tonnes of rice. When the state government appealed to supply rice for Rs 34.60 a kg, the Centre did not, although it had adequate stocks. This forced the state government to give Rs 170 per person for 5kg of additional rice.

"The state government released Rs 10,452 crore between July 2023 and October 2024 to the beneficiaries," he added.

The state government decided to procure rice from the Centre through the Open Market Sale Scheme (OMSS).

"As rice is available now, the Food Corporation of India has agreed to supply rice for Rs 22.50 a kg till June 2025," he said.

The state has sought 2.10 lakh metric tonnes of rice per month at an estimated cost of Rs 536.71. Illegal ration cards will be identified and cancelled. Fair price shops, which distribute rice, will be inspected regularly.

"As promised, we will distribute 10kg of rice to each beneficiary from this month," Muniyappa said.

Survey of my Bidadi land politically motivated: HDK

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

UNION Minister for Steel and Heavy Industries HD Kumaraswamy has alleged that the survey of his land near Bidadi's Kethaganahalli is politically-motivated. Speaking to the media in Bengaluru, Kumaraswamy said he purchased the land 40 years ago, and since then, the issue has been kept alive to target him politically. He stated that since 1984, when the land was purchased by him using funds he earned as a film distributor, some people have had their eyes on the property. "The Congress government in Karnataka is using land surveys as a tool to intimidate me, as they cannot take me on politically," he alleged.

Further, Kumaraswamy said they have been investigating him since 2012, but have found nothing against him. "Unlike CM Siddaramaiah, I have not looted government land. Since all previous investigations have not yielded anything, they are now initiating an SIT investigation under IAS officers. I have nothing to hide," he said. The SIT was preparing to conduct a survey, without even issuing a notice to him. He also said he has been farming on this land, and there are no illegal activities. "I have all the necessary documents to prove my ownership," he added.

Slamming Siddaramaiah for calling former prime minister HD Deve Gowda as a cheerleader for Prime Minister Narendra Modi, Kumaraswamy said the CM should assess his own credibility, before making such statements.

BYV SEEKS WHITE PAPER ON FINANCIAL STATUS OF GOVT

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

ALLEGING that the government is misusing funds and grants allotted for other purposes, BJP state president BY Vijayendra on Wednesday demanded that CM Siddaramaiah release a white paper on the financial status of his government.

Vijayendra alleged that the government releases money meant for guarantee schemes only during elections. They did it after the Lok Sabha polls were announced and now they are assuring to release the same ahead of Zilla and Taluk Panchayat polls. "The government needn't pretend that all is well. Instead, it may issue a white paper," he demanded.

Speaking to reporters, Vijayendra specified that while they are not opposed to the guarantee schemes, funds mobilised for other purposes have been misused. The funds allotted for the upliftment of Schedule Castes and Schedule Tribes have been diverted to guarantees. The leaders from these communities met the CM and urged him not to cause injustice to their people.

Vijayendra said that while on one hand, the government is unable to fix potholes in Bengaluru, on the other, it is talking about building a tunnel road. The MLAs are not receiving grants to develop their own constituencies, he added, warning the government to be prepared for a drought-like situation in Karnataka, with a drinking water crisis looming over some parts. "The government needs to address this immediately," he said.

He further stated that there is a competition among party members who are eying the CM's chair. A section of people are claiming that Siddaramaiah will complete a full five-year term as CM, but those who are giving such statements are also eying his post. "On the one hand, Congress leaders say the party high command is supreme, while on the other, they are warning the latter into listening to them. Karnataka will witness political developments in the next few days," he added.

Vijayendra alleged that the government has increased prices in every sector. The property registration fees have been increased by 600 per cent, whereas property guidance value by 30 per cent. While the hospital service fee has been increased by 5 per cent, power tariffs have gone up by 14.5 per cent, and price of milk by 15 per cent. He pointed out that the Siddaramaiah government has taken loans to the tune of Rs 1.9 lakh crore in the last two years, and there have been arrears on the bills to be paid.

Guarantees meant to help poor, not rich, says minister

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Vijayapura

REFERRING to the Gruha Lakshmi scheme, one of the guarantee schemes introduced by the Congress government after it came to power in the state following the 2023 Assembly polls, Medium and Large Industries Minister MB Patil on Wednesday said its benefits should only reach the poor and needy, and not the rich.

Replying to a question at a press conference here, he clarified that there is no discussion at the government level to exclude the rich from the scheme, however, he opined that "the well-off should not enjoy the benefits of such schemes".

When reminded that during the scheme's announcement, the Congress had nowhere mentioned that it would only be meant for the poor, Patil admitted the same, however, sharing his viewpoint.

"In my view, such schemes should only reach the poor. The rich should not enjoy them. Either they should voluntarily give up the scheme, or the government should exclude them from enjoying such benefits," he said. The minister made it clear that any poor still left out of the Gruha Lakshmi scheme, should be included.

On the allegation of Union minister Shobha Karandlaje that the Congress government is surviving only on guarantee schemes, Patil questioned the BJP's approach, claiming that Prime Minister Narendra Modi is copying Congress's welfare guarantees in BJP-ruled states.

"Our guarantees aim to empower the poor and women, and they will continue, along with development. If the BJP's guarantees are working, why are they copying ours?" Patil questioned.

Regarding pending payments of contractors, Patil shifted the blame on the previous BJP government.

Cong brass non-committal on change in KPCC prez

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI
@ Bengaluru

THERE is much anticipation in Chief Minister Siddaramaiah's coterie of ministers that the KPCC will soon have a new president, but it is said that the Congress high command is non-committal on this. The ministers plan to hold a 'Shoshitara' (oppressed) Samavesha rally and are lobbying hard for it.

Over the past few weeks, there has been a steady stream of leaders flying into New Delhi to meet the high command -- PWD Minister Satish Jarkiholi, Cooperation Minister KN Rajanna and Home Minister Dr G Parameshwara have held talks and placed their demands. Apart from raising the issue of the KPCC president's post and the samavesha, Parameshwara lobbied strongly for his 'Man Friday' and former MLC MC Venugopal to be given the post of MLC. He also held talks with AICC General Secretary (Organisation) KC Venugopal on this.

Since MC Venugopal hails from a backward class community, Parameshwara got the green signal from Siddaramaiah but was trying to convince the high command, a source told TNIE. Parameshwara also put forth his demand for a change in portfolio, in the event of Siddaramaiah reshuffling his cabinet after the budget session, a source told TNIE. He is reportedly expecting the Revenue or Industries portfolio.

Recently, Satish Jarkiholi held a lengthy talk with AICC General Secretary and Karnataka in-charge Randeep Singh Surjewala over a change in the KPCC president's post. Surjewala suggested to Satish to wait for some time as the high command is in no mood to replace DCM DK Shivakumar, with polls to local bodies likely in April or May, according to a source.

Rajanna has also thrown his hat in the ring, but the high command is unlikely to consider him for the state chief's post, given his alleged controversial remarks. "He showed his strength by being vocal and going to the media, but it will not work at the high command level," a Congress leader remarked.

Nomination of MLCs

Besides MC Venugopal, the names of senior leader BL Shankar, youth leader Vinay Karthik, AICC President Mallikarjuna Kharge's supporter UB Venkatesh, KPCC spokesperson Ramesh Babu, and former Backward Classes Commission chairman Dr CS Dwarakanath are making the rounds for the four MLC seats that are vacant.

Lobbying is intense as the high command is likely to make its choice clear soon, according to sources.

Three from Bihar held for gang rape

ENS @ Tiruppur

THE Tiruppur city police on Tuesday night arrested three migrant workers from Bihar on the charge of gang rape of a 26-year-old woman from Odisha, who came to the city with her family in search of work, by threatening to kill her husband with a knife. The accused took turns to sexually assault her in front of the child, police said. The survivor is undergoing treatment at the Tiruppur Government Medical College Hospital.

The accused are M Mohammad Danish (25), M Mohammad Murshid (20), and M Mohammad Nadim (23) of Supaul in Bihar. They were employees of a private knitwear manufacturing unit in the locality.

The victim, her husband, and their three-year-old daughter went to Tiruppur to search of a job. Around 8 pm, Nadim and Murshid approached them, claiming they could help them find jobs at their company. They invited the couple to stay with them in their room.

"Around 1.30 am on Tuesday, the accused held a knife to the husband's throat and allegedly raped the victim in front of her husband and their child," police said.

CM Majhi urges Nepali students to return

Promises restoration of peace and normalcy

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bhubaneswar

Chief Minister Mohan Charan Majhi on Wednesday requested the Nepali students of KIIT university to return to their campus, assuring them that peace and normalcy will be restored soon. The chief minister, who is currently in Rajasthan, also discussed about the incident with officials of Nepal government and assured them that justice will be done in the case of the deceased girl student.

Officials of the Nepal government Sanjeeb Das Sharma and Navin Das Adhikari held a meeting with state Parliamentary Affairs minister Mukesh Mahaling, minister of state for Higher Education Suryabanshi Suraj and chief secretary Manoj Ahuja here over the KIIT unrest and subsequent developments. Besides, Foreign minister of Nepal Arzu Rana Deuba also spoke with Suraj over phone. The minister told mediapersons that he informed Deuba about the steps taken by the state government in the case so far. He said Deuba expressed her satisfaction over the steps taken by the state government.

Suraj said the state government has decided to set up a help desk to assist the Nepali students who have returned to KIIT or going to return to the campus. Steps are also being taken to ensure that there is conducive atmosphere in the KIIT campus so that the students can concentrate on studies for their examination on February 28, he said. Deuba also said the minister informed her that the Odisha government has taken the incident very seriously and a high-level committee has been formed to give justice to the deceased girl and take action against the culprits.

J&K student accuses seniors of ragging, varsity refutes

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Vijayapura

AN MBBS student from the 2023 batch and resident of Anantnag in Jammu and Kashmir was allegedly ragged at Al-Amin Medical College and Hospital, Vijayapura. The incident reportedly took place on Tuesday evening during a cricket match on the college premises.

According to reports, Hamim accused senior students from the 2019 batch of ragging him. Sources indicate that Hamim, who captained his batch's team, had an argument with seniors during the match. The allegations surfaced after student leader of Jammu and Kashmir, Nasir Khuehami, posted on his 'X' account tagging PM Modi, Home Minister, Jammu and Kashmir Chief Minister, Karnataka CM, and Deputy CM D.K. Shivakumar. Following this, senior police officers, including officials from Vijayapura Rural Police Station, visited the college to investigate.

However, Dr. Jilani Awati, the medical superintendent of the college, refuted the claims, stating that the incident was a mere altercation between students from two teams during the annual gathering's cricket match. He clarified that after the quarrel, Hamim might have informed the student leader of Kashmir about the incident. "The student leader who is unaware of the full context, sought help by tagging officials on social media," he said.

Superintendent of Police, Laxman Nimbargi said that five persons were arrested and case has been registered.

ISRO chairman hails India's space mission & technologies

UMA KANNAN @ Bengaluru

INDIA has developed three cryogenic systems today and it is one among six countries in the world to have this technology, said ISRO Chairman V Narayanan.

Speaking at the launch of tech giant Google's largest campus in Bengaluru on Wednesday, he highlighted world records set by the Indian space programme. "We were very clear that we need to become the world leader. Today, we have three world records. From engine test to flight, the minimum time taken by any other country is 42 months, and we have done it in 28 months," Narayanan said.

Narayanan, who assumed charge on January 14 as chairman of the Indian Space Research Organisation (ISRO), said on January 16, India successfully executed the SpaDeX docking experiment. "India became the fourth country to have the technology of space docking," he said.

The country's first satellite was launched in 1979, and on January 29, ISRO marked its 100th launch. "It was a grand and successful launch," he said.

On a lighter note, Narayanan said there is a small difference between a Deepavali rocket and "our rocket". "Deepavali rockets can go wherever they want, ours should go wherever we want," he said, also sharing an anecdote about his Deepavali celebrations. "Last Deepavali, I purchased 12 rockets and while lighting the first one, I was praying that this rocket, as the director of Liquid Propulsion Systems Centre, should not end up in someone's house.

But it landed on the eighth floor! I did not light the rest."

"Wherever we go, nowadays, we are asked when India will become No. 1 in space technology. The space programme was launched in 1962, and in 1967, the first indigenous rocket was launched. In 1961, Yuri Gagarin travelled to space. In 1969, when I was in Class I, sitting on the floor in a village school, it was announced that a man landed on the Moon. When we started our programme, we were 60-70 years behind more advanced countries," he said.

Explaining India's progress in space research, Narayanan said today, the country has 131 satellites in orbit and six generations of launch vehicles have been developed.

He added that Chandrayaan-3 is the first mission which soft-landed on the South Pole of the Moon and India is the first, and only country to have accomplished this. Chandrayaan-1 found water molecules on the Moon and the credit goes to India, and "some credit goes to the US too", the ISRO chairman said.

Man attacks wife, son and daughters, 2 kids succumb

ENS @ Coimbatore

IN a domestic dispute over extramarital affair, a man went on a killing spree and hacked his son, two daughters, and wife with a sickle near Attur in Salem district early on Wednesday. While son Arulprakash (5) and daughter A Vidyadharani (13) died on the spot, wife Dhavamani (38), and second daughter A Arulkumari (10) are being treated for near-fatal injuries at the government medical college hospital in Salem. The accused, Ashok Kumar (42), is also undergoing treatment at the same hospital after he tried to end his life, police said.

The family was residing at Krishnapuram village at Gangavalli taluk in Salem district. Ashok Kumar was working as a labourer in Cuddalore, and he would to quarrel with his wife often. On Wednesday, Dhavamani's neighbours heard screams. When they rushed to the house, they found the three children, along with their mother, lying in a pool of blood.

CONGRESS SHOULD USE THAROOR EPISODE TO REFORM KERALA UNIT

CONGRESS leader Rahul Gandhi has averted a possible crisis in the party by inviting Shashi Tharoor and calming some party members' nerves over the Thiruvananthapuram MP's article praising the LDF government's achievements in changing the investment climate in Kerala. Tharoor's article—published on this page last week—had kicked off a political storm in the state. Rumours and conspiracy theories had started swirling. When the CPI(M) and BJP extended welcoming hands towards Tharoor, the former UN diplomat became the focal point of all political discussions in the state.

Tharoor, who has often aired views independent of the party line, praised Kerala's entrepreneurial growth under the LDF government, citing an international report. While the LDF went to town with the article, the leader of the opposition in the assembly, Congress's VD Satheesan, went on an offensive. He was followed by a bevy of local leaders, some of whom even called for Tharoor's removal from the Congress Working Committee. Tharoor, however, continued to stand by the article and challenged his critics to prove him wrong. Even as the arguments continued, there was a section within the party who felt the controversy could have been avoided. A senior leader even said it is the Congress that needs Tharoor, not the other way round. They knew well that the party could ill afford to lose a popular leader like Tharoor. A third consecutive term in the opposition will be devastating for the Kerala Congress. Luckily for the party, Rahul Gandhi realised this and acted swiftly.

The Congress has one of its strongest vote bases in Kerala despite having a weak organisational structure. The central leadership must turn the Tharoor episode into an opportunity to clear things up in the state unit. It must be used to make the party more inclusive if it does not want to lose more cadres to the CPI(M) and BJP. Unlike the other two parties, the lack of a rigid structure within the Congress fosters a sense of freedom of expression. This spirit of openness must be protected at all costs. Leaders should realise that politics is not just about hurling accusations. True democratic spirit lies beyond pettiness.

RURAL-URBAN INEQUALITY PERSISTS DESPITE GAINS

CONSUMPTION patterns— how much of what people are buying—are important indicators of the quality of life and the way it's changing. The Household Consumption Expenditure Survey (HCES) for 2023-24 threw up a few questions when it showed that conveyance claimed the largest share of family budgets among non-food items. An average rural household's expense on this count was 7.6 percent of the total, and an urban one's was 8.5 percent. Other high spends in rural areas were on durables (6.5 percent), fuel and light (6.1 percent) and clothing (5.6 percent). In urban India, goods and entertainment (6.9 percent), durable goods (6.8 percent) and rent (6.6 percent) dominated after conveyance. The high spends on conveyance indicate greater mobility, as people are traversing longer distances for work and leisure. On the flip side, it also reflects high fuel prices and poor public transport.

The good news is that the share of food in rural household budgets has dropped below 50 percent for the first time. In other words, while household income largely went towards feeding the family earlier—with little left for other necessities like health, education and clothing—the scenario has been slowly shifting as higher incomes allow more balanced spending. The latest survey shows the average monthly per capita expenditure on food was 47 percent in rural areas and 40 percent in urban ones. It's a sharp change from the 60 percent that rural households spent on food in 1999-2000.

The consumption survey also shows that the yawning gap in the monthly per capita expenditure between rural and urban households has been narrowing. It fell to 71 percent in 2022-23 from 84 percent in 2011-12, and edged down to 70 percent in 2023-24. But this progress is too slow on a base too low. The 2023-24 survey shows that the average monthly budgets in rural and urban households were ₹4,122 and ₹6,996. These are too small for buying anything beyond the basic necessities. A 70 percent gap between rural and urban households is too large a gap to be acceptable. No doubt there has been progress, with millions of Indians rising above abject poverty. Yet, crossing the line from necessity to sufficiency is still a long shot.

QUICK TAKE

NOT FIT FOR A DIP

IT'S no surprise that the UP Pollution Control Board found high levels of faecal bacteria in the water next to the confluence where the Kumbh is being held. The National Green Tribunal had asked the state and central pollution control boards to submit action-taken reports as early as December 24. On Wednesday, the NGT bench slammed the report for lack of details, including the precise levels of coliform bacteria at clearly identified locations. It's not just about the Kumbh. Lakhs of Indians take daily or weekly dips in the Ganga and the Yamuna. Such reports should be published every week for all major downstream locations, so that people know what they are dipping into.

Over 75 years, National Sample Surveys have informed govt decisions with crucial insights. Their impact on employment, education and welfare schemes has been invaluable

HOW GOOD DATA SHARPENS INDIA'S POLICY APPROACH

S CHANDRASEKHAR
Professor, Indira Gandhi Institute of Development Research; member, Steering Committee for National Sample Surveys

GOOD data not only helps formulate strategy, but also reduces the risk of policy paralysis. Over the last 75 years, data produced as part of the National Sample Survey (NSS) has punched above its weight in this regard. The first survey was conducted between October 1950 and March 1951. As we celebrate the diamond jubilee of the NSS, it is an opportune time to acknowledge its track record in shaping the narrative on how to improve the well-being of rural and urban households.

Good data needs to inform on the emerging weaknesses in the economy. Take the female labour force participation rate (LFPR). Google Scholar throws up 107 results for a combined search of 'female', 'labour force participation', 'India' and 'NSS' for the time period 1991-2000. This number goes up to 342 for 2001-2010, and further to 1,240 over the period 2011-2020. This means the number of documents that either used NSS data or referred to it while discussing female LFPR in India grew exponentially.

One is naturally curious to know the reasons for the sudden increase in discussion around the female LFPR. It is the ratio of the women working or seeking work to the total number of women. Estimates from the Employment and Unemployment Survey conducted in 2004-05 and 2011-12 indicated that the women's participation had declined from 25 to 18 percent in rural India, while it marginally declined from 15 to 13.6 percent in urban India over that time period.

This led to research on whether firms were unwilling to hire women or whether women were unwilling to participate in the labour market. Recent evidence from the Periodic Labour Force Survey (PLFS), which is being conducted annually from 2017-18, is that FLFPR has increased in rural India, but more women are working as unpaid help at home or family enterprises.

While India will soon become a $4-trillion economy, it has one of the lowest female LFPRs. Another emerging concern flagged by PLFS estimates is the relatively higher unemployment rate among women who have completed at least secondary education, as compared to men. Among the policy instruments being tried to boost women's workforce participation include facilitating access to credit, skilling and entrepreneurship programmes.

If the catchphrase today is 'sabka saath sabka vikas', the buzz-phrase in the mid-2000s was 'inclusive growth'. Consequently, there was a spurt in research using data from the Household Consumption Expenditure Survey (HCES). The narrative focused on the pace of poverty reduction and the need to cover all poor households under the public distribution system. One did see an improvement in the functioning of the distribution system across India. This becomes evident when one compares estimates from the HCES of 2004-05 and 2011-12.

While we are far from realising the objective of 'one nation, one ration card'—that is, the portability of PDS benefits—we have taken steps towards fulfilling this objective. With the release of data from HCES 2022-23 and 2023-24, it is only to be expected that there will be a spurt in discussion on consumption patterns and healthy diets.

MANDAR PARDIKAR

Two other areas where NSS data has shed crucial light are education and health. Multiple surveys conducted on education expenditure have helped understand households' decision to send their children to government or private schools, and the choice of the instruction medium. Estimates from the health expenditure survey highlighted the issue of families' out-of-pocket expenditure.

NSS data has been essential in informing the deliberations of important committees. The Expert Group on Agricultural Indebtedness (2007), National Commission for Enterprises in the Unorganised Sector (2007), Committee on Doubling on Farmer's Income (2017) and Working Group on Migration (2017)—all relied on NSS data.

Based on the analysis of unit-level data from the surveys, the Working Group on Migration argued that the popular narrative that women predominantly move for marriage was, at best, a partial understanding. Women who move for marriage form a majority of the female workforce in India. By providing information on the work status of individuals before and after migration, the NSS provides a slice of the labour market histories of these individuals.

On the issue of financial inclusion, the Pradhan Mantri Jan-Dhan Yojana has succeeded in one important objective. According to the Comprehensive Annual Modular Survey 2022-23, nearly 95 percent of individuals aged 18 and above have an individual or joint account. While India has made remarkable strides in facilitating digital payments, the same survey highlights an important pain point that needs to be addressed. Only 51 percent of men and 29 percent of women aged 15-29 know how to perform online banking transactions. Since Jan-Dhan accounts are eligible for direct benefit and other transfers from the central and state governments, it is important to improve financial literacy and train people to perform online banking.

At the risk of belabouring the point, the NSS has played a critical role in shaping the narrative and identifying policy measures—especially in the last 25 years. Moving forward, it needs to provide periodic report cards on the state of welfare in Indian households as the nation progresses towards the objective of Viksit Bharat 2047.

However, just like the official statistical agencies in other countries, the NSS too is facing difficulties while conducting surveys. In 2018, The Economist ran an article on the plunging response rates to household surveys. When households decline to answer survey questions or fatigue affects the quality of responses, it's counted as a non-sampling error. This problem was acknowledged by the NSS way back in the 1950s. It does not have any easy solution.

This does not mean we reduce our reliance on survey data. Just like in the past, estimates from NSS data will complement the insights available from administrative and alternative data. While the administrative data will provide information on outlay and coverage, surveys conducted by the NSS will provide insights on access, availability and affordability of goods and services. The reality is better understood when the two are put together.

THE TRANSFORMATION MORE WOMEN TEACHERS BRING

JOHN J KENNEDY
Professor and Dean, Christ (Deemed) University, Bengaluru

THE participation of women in India's teaching workforce has seen a significant transformation over the years. According to the latest data from the Unified District Information System for Education, the number of women school teachers increased from 47.1 lakh (49.98 percent) in 2018-19 to 52.3 lakh (53.34 percent) in 2023-24. Women first surpassed the halfway mark in 2019-20, and their representation has steadily grown.

However, disparities persist between private and government schools, with private institutions showing a higher rate of women teacher participation—a 20 percent rise in recent years. Important reasons for this could be their urban-centric locations, which reduce commuting challenges and perhaps better facilities. However, these positions often come with lower salaries, reflecting societal perceptions of women as secondary income earners. Among government schools, states like Kerala, Tamil Nadu, and Punjab lead in female teacher representation—at 78, 67 and 64 percent of the respective totals.

Higher education remains a male-dominated domain. Data from the 2021-22 All India Survey on Higher Education shows that women constitute only 43 percent of faculty members. Globally, women dominate teaching roles in primary and secondary education but face a significant drop in tertiary education.

According to Unesco, 68 percent of primary and 54 percent of secondary teachers are women, but only 41 percent of tertiary educators are female. In countries like Latvia and Russia, women represent over 80 percent of primary teachers, while in Sub-Saharan Africa, the figure drops to 41 percent due to systemic and cultural barriers. In India, women's underrepresentation in higher education reflects deeper societal biases, such as gender discrimination, lack of mentorship, and the disproportionate burden of household responsibilities.

Many scholarly studies have demonstrated the positive impact of female teachers on students' academic and emotional development. Women bring unique strengths such as empathy, communication skills and nurturing abilities that foster supportive learning environments. Moreover, gender balance among teachers reflects an equitable and inclusive society, and research shows that students, particularly girls, perform better when taught by female educators. Female teachers also play a critical role in addressing sensitive issues like menstruation taboos and child marriage, which often impede girls' education in developing countries.

However, systemic challenges such as inadequate salaries, unsafe transportation, workplace harassment, and expensive certification processes deter women from entering or advancing in the teaching profession. The dual burden of professional and household responsibilities further limits their capacity for career growth. To address these challenges, institutions must implement family-friendly policies, such as flexible work hours and childcare support.

> More than half of India's classrooms are now led by women. Such classrooms show a 20% higher rate of inclusive participation. Female teachers play a crucial role in fostering gender sensitivity and promoting equality. Govt schools must catch up with private ones on this count

Governments must adopt targeted measures to address these barriers and promote gender equity in education. Providing housing allowances, transport facilities, and enhanced safety measures for women in remote schools can significantly improve their participation. Expanding financial aid for women pursuing education degrees and offering leadership training can empower women to take on administrative roles.

Bangladesh's initiative to provide stipends for female teachers in rural areas is a successful model worthy of emulation. Addressing regional disparities and incentivising women's participation in underrepresented areas would not only improve gender parity but also enhance the overall quality of education.

In early childhood and primary education, female teachers are particularly effective. Studies in educational psychology highlight that classrooms led by female teachers show a 20 percent higher rate of inclusive participation. Women often integrate social-emotional learning and employ cooperative teaching methods that cater to the diverse needs of students.

Beyond academics, female teachers act as confidantes and guides for students. They play a crucial role in fostering gender sensitivity among boys and girls, shaping attitudes, and promoting respect and equality. The economic potential of closing the gender gap in education is immense. A McKinsey report estimates that achieving gender parity in educational roles could add $12 trillion to global GDP.

In higher education, however, balanced representation is essential to foster diversity and inclusivity in research and leadership. Women faculty will bring unique perspectives to academic discourses and drive innovation by addressing issues that may be overlooked in male-dominated environments. Also, the presence of women in leadership roles within academic institutions can inspire a new generation of female students to aspire to similar positions, creating a ripple effect of empowerment.

Achieving gender balance in higher education requires not only policy interventions but also cultural shifts to challenge deep-rooted stereotypes. Lastly, clear pathways for career advancement, such as transparent promotion policies and recognition programmes, will encourage more women to pursue long-term academic careers. Such empowering steps for women educators would enrich academic environments, foster societal progress and the nation's holistic development.

Funding freebies

Ref: Welfare schemes are necessary, but they need funding plans (Feb 19). The editorial rightly pointed out that freebies are a much-needed lifeline in poverty. At the same time, instead of using the taxpayer's money for the entire scheme, parties can pitch in for at least 30 percent from their own funds. It also ought to be made mandatory for the parties who announce the freebies.

Selfish nationalism

Ref: Living in an era of globalised nationalism (Feb 19). The concept of the United Nations brought world relations towards the rule of law. However, the ego of 'might is right' is a natural phenomenon where the US abandons the Paris Climate agreement and China disobeys the verdict of the International Court of Justice. The leaders of our time must value wisdom beyond raw selfish nationalism for an inclusive world human community.

Realistic plan

AI adoption is moving much faster than our ability to prepare for it. It is not just replacing repetitive tasks anymore. It is starting to take over roles that require intelligence and creativity. We need a realistic plan that ensures AI works with humans, not just replaces them.

Symbolic gestures

The Telangana government's order allowing Muslim staff to leave early during Ramadan is unnecessary, and the BJP's criticism of it is justified. Rather than symbolic gestures that merely create a false impression of minority appeasement, Muslims need meaningful employment opportunities and welfare schemes to improve their economic conditions.

Elephant statues

The decision of the Sree Krishna Temple authorities in Kinalur to replace a live elephant with a realistic statue for the festival procession is both compassionate and forward-thinking. This initiative not only prevents tragic human-elephant conflicts but also spares the majestic creatures from captivity and stress.

US has spent $1.89 billion on development aid to Bangladesh over the past four years ● Funds disbursed to India close to the $21-million estimate of Elon Musk

Spike in USAID assistance for B'desh civil society in '24: Data

JITENDRA CHOUBEY @ New Delhi

UNDER the Joe Biden administration, the United States has spent $1.89 billion on development aid to Bangladesh over the past four years, primarily through the US Agency for International Development (USAID), making Bangladesh the largest recipient of American assistance in South Asia, according to the US government data analysed by TNIE.

Among 15 countries in South and Central Asia, Bangladesh ranks second, following Afghanistan, which received $4.82 billion due to the US's long direct presence in the country.

Most of the funds are spent in Bangladesh under the head of emergency response, followed by agriculture, government and civil society.

Bangladesh received a whopping $91 million under the Government and Civil Society (GCS) head. Major funds under the same head were spent in Bangladesh's 2024 election and the pre-election years.

Curiously, under the GCS head, funds for Democratic Participation and Civil Society, Media and Flow of Information, and Legislative and Political Parties have been consistently increased over the years. The US agencies spent the majority of funds in the election year 2024.

However, the data doesn't specify who had received these funds. Under the head of Democratic Participation and Civil Society, the funds allocated in 2021 were $1.8m, which increased to $2.1m in 2022, further increased to $3.5m in 2023, and shot up to $7.5m in 2024.

Similarly, under the head of Media and Free Flow of Information head, the funds increased from over half a million dollars to $7.4m in 2024. Meanwhile, there were no funds allocated in 2023. The US has funded $6.8m for the 2023 and 2024 elections. Meanwhile, it also funded the Bangladesh political parties with $3.1m in 2024 and $1.7m in 2021.

Although some reports cited leaders from the now ousted Prime Minister Sheikh Hasina's party, the Awami League, claiming that the US attempted to influence the outcome in Bangladesh, the US has consistently denied these allegations.

"We have had no involvement at all. Any reports or rumours that the United States government was involved in these events is simply false," White House spokesperson Karine Jean-Pierre said at a press briefing when asked about reported claims of US involvement soon after the charges were made last year.

President Trump denied any role of the US deep state in the developments in Bangladesh, whose ousted prime minister, Sheikh Hasina, took shelter in India. "There was no role of our deep state. This is something that the Prime Minister has been working on for hundreds of years. I have been reading about it. I will leave Bangladesh to the Prime Minister," President Trump said.

The year-wise breakdown of the total funds Bangladesh received from US foreign assistance shows that the country received the highest in the Covid-19 year.

US AID TO BANGLADESH UNDER VARIOUS HEADS

Heads/(million USD)	2021	2022	2023	2024	Total
Govt and Civil Society	13	14	26	38	91

Biden committed $20 mn to promote democracy in India

JITENDRA CHOUBEY @ New Delhi

DURING the Joe Biden administration, the United States committed over $20 million to promote democratic participation in India.

The American fund is close to the $21-million estimate of Elon Musk and the US foreign assistance data on promoting democratic participation and civil society in India.

In the 2024 election year, the US allocated $5.5 million toward voter turnout initiatives, and in 2023, $6.1 million was spent under the same head.

Over the past four years, the total commitment for democratic participation was $20.1 million, with $13.25 million disbursed (see table).

However, the data does not specify the organisations that received the funds, making it unclear where the money went or the direct impact on voter turnout. However, the US released only $13.5 million in the same period, against the commitment of $20.1 million under the head of Democratic Participation and Civil Society during the Biden administration's period of 2021-24.

Curiously, the major funds were disbursed during the pre-General election year 2023 and the general election year 2024.

In 2024, it disbursed $5.5 million against a commitment of $6.8 million, and in 2023, it overspent $6.1 million against a commitment of $4.1 million to its partner organisations.

However, it released $1.1 million in 2022 against a commitment of $4.6 million and $0.55 million against a commitment of $4.6 million.

Earlier this week, the DOGE cancelled the $21m funds allocated to India to increase voter turnout, which ignited a political controversy.

New Delhi station stampede: Why ticket sale exceeding limit, asks HC

SHEKHAR SINGH @ New Delhi

"IF there's a fixed limit on the number of passengers in a coach, why is the ticket sale exceeding that limit? This is a fundamental problem," the Delhi High Court said while hearing a PIL over the February 15 stampede at New Delhi Railway Station (NDLS) that claimed 18 lives, including nine women and four children.

The court issued notices to the Centre, Railways, and the Railway Board seeking their response on urgent safety measures to prevent such tragedies in future. The high court fixed the matter for further hearing on March 26.

During the Wednesday hearing, a division bench of Chief Justice DK Upadhyay and Justice Tushar Rao Gedela sharply criticised the Indian Railways' practice of overselling tickets beyond a train's capacity.

Citing Section 57 of the Railways Act, which mandates that each coach must have a fixed maximum capacity, the court pointed out that the provision was being disregarded.

"Adherence to this rule could have prevented this disaster. During peak times, the Railways could make adjustments, but there has to be a limit," the court emphasised.

Adherence to this rule could have prevented the disaster. During peak times, the Indian Railways could make adjustments, but there has to be a limit

Delhi High Court

Advocate Aditya Trivedi, representing the petitioners, strongly condemned the Railway's negligence, arguing that the stampede was a result of systemic failure.

The bench, however, pointed out that immediate measures had been taken post-tragedy. "Given the sheer number of people at the station that day, controlling such a crowd might not have been feasible. It's not a railway accident but an issue of managing unforeseen rush," the bench observed.

The petitioner's counsel, however, stressed the lack of crowd control measures in Indian Railways. "Airports have systems to track the number of people present. Why doesn't the Indian Railways? There is no structured regulation for unreserved ticketing. If the Railways fails to follow its own rules, how can we expect passenger safety?" he questioned.

He also pointed out that a large number of people can access platforms without tickets, violating existing norms. "If platform ticket requirements were enforced properly, the congestion could have been significantly reduced. This isn't about infrastructure; it's about compliance," he stressed.

Acknowledging the gravity of the issue, Solicitor General Tushar Mehta, appearing for the Indian Railways, assured the court that the matter would be examined.

Summing up, the Chief Justice said the PIL raised valid concerns: "The petitioner's argument is not just about this incident but about ensuring such disasters do not happen again due to non-compliance with existing rules. There should be no resistance to these demands."

Kharge seeks to put poll defeat onus on leaders

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

IN the first meeting of party leaders after the drubbing in the Delhi assembly polls, Congress president Mallikarjun Kharge on Wednesday warned that top office-bearers would be held accountable for future election results in states under their charge and asked them to be wary of ideologically weak turncoats. "I want to talk to you about the most important thing of accountability. You will all be held accountable for revamping the organisations in states and for all future election results," he said.

Addressing general secretaries and in-charges, including those appointed last week, at Indira Bhawan, Kharge stressed the importance of promoting those committed to the Congress ideology and "stand with the party even under adverse circumstances".

He urged party leaders to work at the grassroots level, strengthen the party from the booth level, and promote people ideologically committed to the organisation.

Addressing the office-bearers, he said: "It is your responsibility to strengthen the organisation from state headquarters to booth as soon as possible. You must go to the booth for this work, work hard, and interact with the workers. Our Frontals Cells will have to be involved. I especially want to say about the Indian National Trade Union Congress (INTUC), that they are an important part of us, and involve them too in organisation building."

Congress president Mallikarjun Kharge, and leaders Rahul Gandhi and KC Venugopal during a meeting of party general secretaries and state in-charges in New Delhi | x

In a recent reshuffle, the party appointed new in-charges for 13 states and four Union Territories, two state presidents and two new general secretaries. Kharge hinted at more organisational changes, saying some more are in the offing.

Many times, to strengthen the party, people are inducted in a hurry, he said, adding that they could be weak in ideology and run away in difficult times. Using a Hindi proverb, he advised the office-bearers to be wary of choosing "imitations over the original."

Among those who attended were former Congress chief Rahul Gandhi, senior leaders Priyanka Gandhi Vadra, K C Venugopal and Jairam Ramesh, and all general secretaries and in-charges in various states.

Kharge also flagged the alleged "voter list manipulation" issue and claimed that it is happening on a large scale in elections. He noted that Rahul Gandhi also raised a question about this in the Lok Sabha.

"All of you will realise that these days the names of our supporters are deleted from the voters list. Or the names are removed and added to the adjacent booth. New names are added by the BJP just before the election. This rigging has to be stopped at all costs," the Congress chief asserted.

Kharge pointed out that earlier, the Chief Justice of Inida was included in the committee to select the Chief Election Commission by order of the Supreme Court, but was removed from the panel by the Centre.

Cong bigwigs discuss pressing agendas

Kharge flagged the alleged "voter list manipulation" issue and claimed it is happening on a large scale. He also pointed out that earlier, the Chief Justice of India (CJI) was also included in the committee to select the Chief Election Commission by the order of the Supreme Court; but the CJI was removed from the panel following a law passed by the Centre. Raising issues of inflation and unemployment, Kharge urged the senior Congress leaders to highlight the BJP-led NDA government's "complete failure to address these concerns".

Traditional medicine in WHO framework

KAVITA BAJELI-DATT @ New Delhi

IN a significant step for the global recognition of traditional medicine, the World Health Organization (WHO) has introduces a pioneering new module dedicated to traditional medicine conditions, in its 2025 update to the International Classification of Diseases (ICD-11).

This announcement marks a monumental step in systematic tracking and global integration of traditional healthcare practices related to Ayurveda, Siddha, and Unani, officials said on Wednesday.

The inclusion of traditional medicine in the WHO's internationally-recognised health framework ensures that the traditional healthcare systems of Ayurveda, Siddha, and Unani are officially documented and categorised in ICD-11, alongside conventional medical conditions. "This elevates their status in global health reporting, research, and policymaking," a Ministry of Ayush statement read.

According to Ayush ministry secretary Vaidya Rajesh Kotecha, "The release of the ICD-11 update 2025 represents a significant step toward global integration of traditional medicine, specifically Ayurveda, Siddha, and Unani."

How inclusion of traditional medicine benefits global health

By providing standardised terminology and definitions, it will enable global tracking of traditional medicine usage, ensuring comprehensive reporting of application

Will provide a framework for researchers to analyze the efficacy of traditional medicine alongside modern treatments

Will also allow healthcare providers to incorporate traditional medicine practices into clinical decision-making for more holistic treatment

WILL SUPPORT INTEGRATION OF TRADITIONAL MEDICINE INTO NATIONAL HEALTHCARE STRATEGIES

"By allowing dual coding and improving data collection, this update fosters evidence-based policymaking, enhances patient care, and supports the inclusion of traditional medicine in national healthcare strategies, promoting holistic and inclusive healthcare worldwide," the official said.

He said the update to the WHO healthcare framework also "marks a pivotal moment for traditional medicine, paving the way for its global integration and empowering evidence-based integrative healthcare policies that embrace holistic well-being."

"With the new updates, the ICD-11 offers more ease of use, improved interoperability and accuracy, which will benefit national health systems and the people they serve," said Dr Robert Jakob, Team Leader, Classifications and Terminologies Unit, WHO.

According to WHO, ICD-11 is a tool that standardises the language used by health professionals worldwide in diagnosing, reporting and monitoring diseases, injuries and causes of death. The ICD is a flagship WHO product that serves as the basis for identifying health trends and statistics at national level and worldwide.

This update follows the successful year-long testing and deliberations after the launch of ICD-11 TM-2 on January 10, 2024, in New Delhi for Ayurveda, Siddha, and Unani systems of medicine for country implementation testing. It culminated in the deliberations held at the WHO meeting at the National Institute of Health in Malaysia in November 2024.

The ICD-11 TM 2 module is now officially released on the ICD-11 Blue Browser of WHO, the ministry said.

Traditional medicine has long been an essential component of healthcare, particularly in Asia, Africa, and other regions where indigenous practices complement modern medical approaches. This move aligns with WHO's mission to promote universal health coverage and sustainable development goals, recognising the therapeutic potential of these systems alongside contemporary medical treatments.

The traditional medicine module in ICD-11 is designed to capture morbidity data, rather than mortality and will help governments and healthcare institutions assess the frequency, quality, and cost-effectiveness of traditional medicine interventions.

This evidence-based approach will allow policymakers to make informed decisions about the integration of traditional medicine services into national health frameworks.

Kushinagar to be developed as int'l tourist destination, says Shekhawat

PARVEZ SULTAN @ New Delhi

UNION culture minister Gajendra Singh Shekhawat has issued directions to authorities to spruce up lighting and various other amenities to facilitate visitors with walking disability at Kushinagar, a significant Buddhist pilgrimage site located in Uttar Pradesh.

After reviewing the arrangements in place at 'Parinirvana Stupa', also known as Mahaparinirvana Temple, located among the ruins of ancient Buddhist monasteries founded during the 5th century AD, the minister said it would be developed as an international tourist attraction.

"According to Prime Minister Modi's vision, Kushinagar in UP will be developed as an international tourist place. Today I reviewed the arrangements of the 'Mahaparinirvana Temple'. I instructed ASI to provide better lighting and ramp facilities for tourists in the temple," he posted on social media platform 'X'.

It is believed that Gautama Buddha died in Kushinagar and attained 'parinirvana'. Kushinagar is the central point of the Buddhist circuit, which consists of pilgrimage sites at Lumbini, Sarnath and Gaya.

Gajendra Singh Shekhawat, Union Minister for Cultural Affairs

In the Union Budget earlier this month, finance minister Nirmala Sitharaman unveiled plans to boost growth of tourism with special focus on destinations related to the life and times of Lord Buddha.

"Continuing with the emphasis on places of spiritual and religious significance in the July Budget, there will be a special focus on destinations related to the life and times of Lord Buddha," the finance minister had said.

The Centre in recent years has been focusing on promoting sites related to Buddha. It organised the first Asian Buddhist Summit in Delhi last year. The summit, themed "Role of Buddha Dhamma in Strengthening Asia," featured prominent Sangha leaders, scholars, and practitioners from across the continent, fostering dialogue and understanding while addressing contemporary challenges faced by the Buddhist community.

Earlier, in 2023, the first of its kind event — a two-day international conference on 'Shared Buddhist Heritage' was held in Delhi in 2023.

The programme brought together Central Asian, East Asian, South Asian and Arab countries on a common platform to discuss "Shared Buddhist Heritage". In this series, an International Airport at the Lord Buddha's Parinirvana in Kushinagar in Uttar Pradesh was inaugurated in 2021.

Fear of arrest and deporation high, say people who have returned from US ● Says India must 'stand up for the rights, dignity of its citizens'

MANY PUNJABIS CAMP AT MEXICO BORDER

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

MANY people from Punjab currently wait at the Mexican border, fearing arrest and deportation if they make the illegal crossing into the United States, according to Indian illegals who have returned home.

While there is no official confirmation about this claim, a few deportees said the prospective migrants who managed to reach Mexico recently are currently biding their time in towns along the US border.

They were apparently on their way out of India as the first of the three flights from the US carrying deportees touched down at the Amritsar airport. The prospects of the waiting people look bleak as they may not be able to stay in Mexico for a longer period or book their way back home.

According to sources, "The reason is that the agents demand more money to get them back home. They are asking them to fend for themselves if they can't afford it. They don't know how long they have to be in Mexico. They are just waiting and watching."

Sources said the new batches face another issue—their status in Mexico.

An officer explained on condition of anonymity that there are three kinds of travellers from Punjab.

Agent charged ₹44 lakh from victim

A case at Patti police station in Taran Taran district relates to an agent who charged `44 lakh from the victim under the pretence of legal immigration to the US but instead routed him through Nicaragua and Mexico. Another case at Majri Poice station in SAS Nagar said an agent charged `45 lakh and sent the victim to Mexico via Colombia. The victim was reportedly detained, tortured, and threatened before crossing into the US.

First are those who legally left India to the first port of any European country, the UK or the Middle East. If they had gone to the UK, they would have gone to Mexico after waiting a few days. If they could afford it, they might have flown direct.

If they went to Dubai, they would have been 'transported' to Mexico via many countries. These are the illegal routes.

One route is from Dubai to Mexico. The indirect route is from Delhi to Dubai or Suriname to Mexico via Guyana, Brazil, Columbia and Panama. Another way to reach Tijuana in Mexico is through Guatemala.

A more complex route is to reach Mexico via Italy and Spain. The final option, also the longest, has three variants: From India to Thailand, Brazil and finally Mexico; reach Mexico via Czech, Spain and El Salvador; or through Egypt, Dubai, Israel, Spain, Guatemala and Nicaragua.

Meanwhile, Punjab Police have registered 15 cases and 5 FIRs in their attempt to identify travel agents involved in human trafficking. The police filed the latest FIRs in the Tarn Taran, SAS Nagar, Moga, and Sangrur districts on February 17 and 18.

A case at Patti police station in Taran Taran district relates to an agent who charged ₹44 lakh from the victim under the pretence of legal immigration to the US but instead routed him through Nicaragua and Mexico. Another case at Majri Poice station in SAS Nagar said an agent charged ₹45 lakh and sent the victim to Mexico via Colombia. The victim was reportedly detained, tortured, and threatened before crossing into the US.

In a case at Dharamkot Police Station in Moga, the agent lured the victim with a false work permit and a direct USA flight. He charged him ₹45 lakh, but sent him via Prague, Spain, and El Salvador.

Interestingly, in a case registered at Khanauri Police Station in Sangrur, two agents, Angrej Singh and Jagjit Singh from Haryana, duped a victim of ₹50 lakh by promising a Canada visa but instead sent him through Egypt, Dubai, Spain, Guatemala, and Nicaragua. Both were arrested.

SAD raps US Sikh leaders' silence on 'turbans in dustbins'

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

THE Shiromani Akali Dal (SAD) on Wednesday urged Sikh leaders of the United States and BJP leaders to take up the issue of the Sikh youths having their turbans thrown into the dustbins during deportations from the US. The party described this as a serious issue that requires urgent attention.

Senior SAD leader Bikram Singh Majithia said that it was shocking to learn that turbans of Sikh youth were tossed into dustbins by US Police officials while making them board US Air Force flights for India.

Majithia said that forcing the vegetarian youths to have beef during their detention was also a serious violation. The youths were handcuffed, shackled, and forced to endure inhumane treatment throughout their journey, a disgraceful act that demands global condemnation. He wondered whether the Sikh leaders from the BJP would raise the issue with PM Narendra Modi, who, in turn, would discuss it with his "good friend" US President Donald Trump.

The SAD leader said that the Sikh leaders, who had voted for Donald Trump in the US, should also take up the matter with him. He said India could not remain silent about humiliation with its citizens abroad. "The country must stand up for the dignity and rights of its citizens", he added.

The 2015 batch IAS officer shared on X, "Islam is the religion of Arabia, here (in India) everyone was Hindu. People were converted from Hindus to Muslim, so even if the religions are different, the blood is the same. All have been part of the same culture, Muslims who consider people of Arabia as ideal, need to reconsider. First of all, they should consider Hindus as their brothers and then the Arabs." Khan has garnered attention for his reformative perspectives on Islam and Muslims.

Is Narottam Mishra poised for a larger role?

Lately, the political landscape in Bhopal has been abuzz with speculation regarding Narottam Mishra, a former MP minister and influential Brahmin politician, and the possibility of him taking on a significant responsibility within the ruling BJP. Prominent party leaders, including state BJP in-charge Mahendra Singh, Union Minister Jyotiraditya Scindia, and the state's senior-most cabinet minister Kailash Vijayvargiya, have been seen visiting Mishra's residence. The party is expected to announce the new state BJP chief soon, and Mishra is considered one of the leading candidates for the position.

Singhar's letter comes just a day after he made corruption allegations against Govind Singh Rajput, a minister loyal to Jyotiraditya Scindia. During his visit, the Prime Minister is scheduled to lay the foundation for a cancer hospital in Bageshwar Dham (Chhatarpur) on February 23 and to inaugurate GIS in Bhopal on February 24.

4 women Maoists gunned down in MP encounter

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bhopal

FOUR armed Maoist cadres, all women, were gunned down on Wednesday in an encounter with the police in Madhya Pradesh's Balaghat district, an official said. The battle took place near the Raunda Forest Camp in the Supkhar forest located under Garhi police station area, which is close to the eastern end of the Kanha National Park on the MP-Chhattisgarh border.

The state police's elite anti-Maoist force – the Hawk Force – and supporting police teams engaged a group of armed Maoists cadres in a gun battle. As the anti-Maoists force personnel moved into the forests, another Maoists cadre was found dead.

"Four weapons, including an INSAS rifle, an SLR, a 303 rifle and a 315 bore rifle have been recovered from the forests and combing operations are still underway from MP as well as Chhattisgarh side," MP police's ADG (anti-naxal operations) Pankaj Srivastava said.

This is the biggest success so far for the anti-Maoist security establishment in the state, where three districts – Balaghat, Mandla and Dindori – are Maoist affected.

NGT slams UP govt over polluted Ganga, but Yogi says water okay to drink

SHEKHAR SINGH & NAMITA BAJPAI @ New Delhi/Lucknow

THE National Green Tribunal (NGT) on Wednesday slammed the UP Pollution Control Board (UPPCB) and the state government for failing to provide crucial data on faecal coliform levels and other water quality parameters of the Ganga and Yamuna in Prayagraj.

Expressing concern over lapses in sewage management, the NGT bench led by Chairperson Justice Prakash Shrivastava, along with judicial member Sudhir Agarwal and expert member A Senthi Vel, directed the state to submit comprehensive water quality reports within a week.

The CPCB's findings had highlighted alarming deficiencies in water quality, raising various concerns amid the ongoing mela in Prayagraj.

The UPPCB informed the bench that it had submitted a compliance report but also sought specific details from the CPCB regarding the exact locations of collected water samples. This led the bench to question whether the board was disputing the CPCB's findings.

In response, the tribunal directed the CPCB to submit the precise sample collection points and laboratory test reports for transparency. However, the tribunal expressed dissatisfaction with the UPPCB's compliance report, noting that it lacked essential parameters.

Amid the mounting scrutiny, CM Yogi Adityanath refuted the CPCB's assessment, which indicated that faecal contamination rendered the river water unfit for bathing in several locations. While speaking on the floor of state assembly, the CM countered the claims, asserting that the water at the Sangam—the sacred confluence of the Ganga, Yamuna, and the mythical Saraswati—was "fit for drinking."

Rahul's tweet on Shivaji birth anniv stirs row

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

LEADER of the Opposition in Lok Sabha, Rahul Gandhi, stirred a controversy with his tribute on social media to Maratha king Chhatrapati Shivaji Maharaj on his birth anniversary. In a post on X, he offered "Shraddhanjali" (homage) on the occasion of his birth anniversary instead of "Adaranjali" (respectful tribute).

Gandhi's post read: "On the occasion of Chhatrapati Shivaji Maharaj's Jayanti, I offer my humble 'Shraddhanjali'. With his courage and bravery, he inspired us to raise our voices fearlessly and with full dedication. His life will always remain an inspiration to all of us."

While many have appreciated the sentiment, the choice of the word "Shraddhanjali" sparked the backlash. The Opposition demanded that he remove the post and apologise. BJP minister Nitesh Rane also criticised Gandhi for using the wrong word. However, Maharashtra Congress chief spokesperson Atul Londe said BJP leaders were making a hue and cry, adding they failed to understand Gandhi's "innocent feelings".

Dhami nod to new land law to protect cultural identity

NARENDRA SETHI @ Dehradun

IN a significant move, the Uttarakhand Cabinet on Wednesday decided to ban land purchases by individuals from outside the state.

A spokesperson said, "outsiders" will not be able to purchase horticultural and agricultural land in 11 Uttarakhand districts, except Haridwar and Udham Singh Nagar.

District magistrates cease to have the authority to personally permit land purchases. Instead, a government portal will handle transactions online, highlighting purchases made by "outsiders". The district magistrates will be required to submit regular reports related to land purchases to the Revenue Council and the government to ensure accountability.

A government spokesperson stated, "Land within municipal boundaries can only be used according to designated land use provisions. If an individual misuses the land against regulations, it will revert to government ownership."

Citing the need to preserve the state's original character, the government has also decided to undertake consolidation and settlement to ensure proper land use in hilly regions and prevent encroachments.

In addition to the new land use regulations, the government has announced measures to control the unnatural increase in land prices. A government official said, "We are committed to ensuring that land prices remain stable and affordable for our local population. Our focus is on protecting the interests of residents while regulating market dynamics."

With the ban, "all provisions from 2018 have now been revoked following the cabinet decision," the spokesperson said.

Raj comes up with '1st green Budget', promises to make $350 bn eco by '30

RAJESH ASNANI @ Jaipur

RAJASTHAN Deputy Chief Minister and Finance Minister Diya Kumari presented the budget for 2025-26 in the state assembly on Wednesday and unveiled several key initiatives at greening the desert state.

The second budget of the BJP government led by Bhajan Lal Sharma is being called the 'First Green budget' of the state where a provision of over ₹27,000 crore has been made under 'Mission Hariyalo Rajasthan'. The 'Green budget' will see 10 crore saplings being planted under the mission.

Under a five-year Climate Change Adaptation Plan-2030, the FM announced the establishment of a Centre of Excellence for Climate Change at a cost of ₹ 150 crore. Provision of ₹35 crore has been specially made for conducting 'Green Audit' in the state.

Additionally, nine Greenfield expressways will be constructed spanning 2,750km at a cost of ₹60,000 crore. Also, a Green Technology Development Centre will be set up at a cost of ₹250 crore. In another major step, over a dozen Clean and Green-Eco Cities will be developed in the next three years by creating a fund of ₹ 900 crore.

Also, a Sustainable Development Goals Coordination and Acceleration Centre (SDGCAC) will soon be established. The FM also announced that Tradable Credits will be created by developing Rajasthan Green Credit Mechanism on the lines of Carbon Credit.

To boost employment among the youth, 1.25 L government jobs will be provided in the upcoming year. Through employment fairs and initiatives, 1.5 lakh private jobs would also be arranged for the youth under the Rajasthan Employment Policy 2025.

Under the new proposals in the energy sector, the state will give 5 lakh new domestic electricity connections and 5,000 power connections specifically for agricultural use. Eligible households will now get 150 units of free electricity, and solar panels will be installed in the beneficiaries' homes.

$350 billion economy

Diya Kumari not only announced a string of measures to strengthen the state's power and agricultural sectors but also asserted that the state government plans to make Rajasthan a $350 billion economy by the year 2030. The FM announced the establishment of a Centre of Excellence for Climate Change at a cost of ₹150 crore. Provision of ₹35 crore has been specially made for conducting 'Green Audit' in the state.

Tourist footfall drops by 50% in 'dry' Kashmir

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

THE prolonged dry spell in Kashmir has significantly impacted the winter tourism sector in the region. The near snowless winter in the Valley has led to a 30-50 per cent drop in tourist footfall. The 5th edition of Khelo India winter games, which was scheduled to be held in the world famous ski resort of Gulmarg, has also been postponed.

Tour operator and former Travel Agents Association of India (TAAI) Kashmir chapter president Zahoor Ahmed Qari said the tourists who wanted to see the snow have cancelled their visits to Kashmir.

"The tourists have cancelled their planned visits to Kashmir due to the ongoing dry weather and lack of snowfall. The tourists wanted to enjoy snowfall here for the life-time experience but in view of prolonged dry spell, many have cancelled their trips," he said.

Zahoor said there was full booking in the hotels for February to March but now "hoteliers are calling us to sell their vacant rooms".

He said that the foreign tourists have also cancelled their visits to Gulmarg due to less snowfall. The occupancy in hotels, guest houses, house boats have been hit due to the drop in footfall of the tourists.

Prominent hotelier and President of Hoteliers Club Gulmarg Aqib Chaya said due to lack of snowfall this year, "we have only 60-70 per cent business in Gulmarg while it is about 50 per cent in other tourist destinations in the winter months".

He said there were bookings till March as "we used to have snowfall till then but this year there was very less snowfall due to prolonged dry spell".

J&K Tourism Alliance chairman and Houseboat Association vice-president Manzoor Pakhtoon said the dry spell has significantly impacted Kashmir tourism.

"We had a good occupancy of houseboats last year at this point of time but this year we are now having only 10-15 per cent occupancy," he said.

Rubbing salt in the wounds of the tourist stakeholders is the cancellation of 5th Khelo India winter games in Gulmarg due to less snowfall.

The 5th edition of Khelo India Winter Games was scheduled to be held in Gulmarg from February 22-25.

Kashmir Chambers of Commerce and Industry (KCCI) secretary general Faiz Bakshi said they were expecting 6000-7000 participants in Khelo India winter games, which have now been cancelled.

"The hoteliers had provided rooms to the participants and all these have been cancelled now. This is not a good sign that Khelo India winter games were postponed due to less snowfall in the ski resort of Gulmarg," he said. "The postponement of Khelo India games due to bad weather is a big loss for the Kashmir tourism sector".

He said people come to Kashmir in winters to see snowfall and "when there is no snow, tourists are disappointed and cancelling their visits".

The foreign tourist arrivals have also witnessed a steep decline due to less snowfall, say the tour operators.

As the dry spell continues, the future of Kashmir's tourism industry, which has been the backbone of J&K's economy, hangs in the balance.

ZELENSKYY, TRUMP TRADE PUNCHES IN NASTY FIGHT

KYIV

UKRAINIAN President Volodymyr Zelenskyy on Wednesday accused Donald Trump of succumbing to Russian "disinformation", deepening a rift between Kyiv and the new US administration.

Speaking to reporters at a press conference on Tuesday, Trump echoed many of Russia's talking points on the three-year war in Ukraine, blaming Kyiv for having "started" the fighting and suggesting Zelenskyy was hugely unpopular. Trump claimed his Ukrainian counterpart had a minimal approval rating in his country — despite polls showing otherwise. Zelenskyy hit back, saying that "unfortunately, President Trump, for whom we have great respect as leader of the American people... lives in this disinformation space." Responding to Zelenskyy, Trump called the Ukrainian a "dictator" on Wednesday.

"A Dictator without Elections, Zelenskyy better move fast or he is not going to have a Country left," Trump wrote on his Truth Social platform of the Ukrainian leader, whose five-year term expired last year. Adding salt to Zelenskyy's wounds, Russian President Vladimir Putin said on Wednesday he rated talks between the United States and Russia in Saudi Arabia "highly", describing them as a "first step" to restoring relations with Washington.

"I was briefed (on the talks). I rate them highly, there is a result," Putin said at a drone factory in Saint Petersburg.

"In my opinion, we made the first step to restore work in various areas of mutual interests."

Putin added that US President Donald Trump was starting to receive "objective information", without elaborating, but cautioned the two sides needed to build trust to resolve the conflict.

"It is impossible to solve many issues, including the Ukrainian crisis, without increasing the level of trust between Russia and the United States," the Russian leader added.

Zelenskyy's comments highlighted a growing rift between Ukraine and the Trump administration, which sent officials to meet with Russian negotiators on Tuesday in a high-level meeting in Saudi Arabia that excluded Kyiv.

"I believe that the United States helped Putin to break out of years of isolation," the Ukrainian leader added, in some of his sharpest criticism yet of the new US administration. AFP

Trump's envoy arrives in Kyiv to sit and listen

Kyiv: Trump's special envoy for Ukraine, Keith Kellogg, arrived in Kyiv in what he said was a mission to "sit and listen" to Kyiv's concerns. "We understand the need for security guarantees... Part of my mission is to sit and listen and say: what are your concerns?" Kellogg said, adding he would convey what he learns on his visit to Trump and Marco Rubio to "ensure that we get this one right"

Trump-Putin meet likely end of month

Palm Beach: US President Donald Trump said he would "probably" meet his Russian counterpart Vladimir Putin before the end of the month, as he seeks to strike a deal to end Moscow's war in Ukraine. Trump responded "probably" to a question on the subject as he was leaving a press conference. Putin also said he would like to meet with Trump but it needs to be prepared to make it productive

Asian deportees from US held in Panama

PANAMA CITY: Panama is detaining in a hotel nearly 300 people from various countries deported under US President Donald Trump, not allowing them to leave while waiting for international authorities to organise a return to their countries. More than 40% of the migrants, authorities say, won't voluntarily return to their homeland. Migrants in the hotel rooms held messages to the windows reading 'Help' and "We are not save (sic) in our country." The migrants hailed from 10 mostly Asian countries, including Iran, India, Nepal, Sri Lanka, Pakistan, Afghanistan, China and others. The US has difficulty deporting directly to some of those countries so Panama is being used as a stopover. Costa Rica was expected to receive a similar flight of third-country deportees on Wednesday. Panama's Security Minister Frank Abrego said Tuesday the migrants are receiving medical attention and food as part of a migration agreement between Panama and the US. The Panamanian government has now agreed to serve as a 'bridge' or transit country for deportees, while the US bears all the costs of the operation. The agreement was announced earlier this month after US Secretary of State Marco Rubio's visit. Panamanian President Jose Raul Mulino, who faces political pressure over Trump's threats of retaking control of the Panama Canal, announced the arrival of the first of the deportation flights last Thursday. The confinement and legal limbo the deportees face has raised alarm in the Central American country, especially as images spread of migrants peaking through the windows of their rooms on high floors of the hotel and displaying the notes pleading for help. RBI pumps in ₹45 lakh crore liquidity since Dec

Liquidity remains tight for banks as money borrowed via VRR auctions have to be returned on everyday basis to RBI

BENN KOCHUVEEDAN @ Mumbai

THE Reserve Bank has injected a whopping ₹45 lakh crore into the banking system since the December 6 monetary policy review when it slashed the cash reserve ratio by 50 bps to 4%, releasing ₹1.16 lakh crore into the system.

Of the total, more than ₹43 lakh crore of fresh liquidity has flown into the system between December 11 when the new governor Sanjay Malhotra assumed office and up to February 18, when the central bank pumped in another ₹1 lakh crore through the variable repo auction, which it launched on a daily basis from January 15. Malhotra's term began with two serious challenges-- a bleeding rupee, which has seen its worst days under him, having sniffed at 88 to the dollar last week, and very tight liquidity conditions, which has been dogging the system since November.

Liquidity remains tight for banks as the money borrowed through variable rate repo (VRR) auctions have to be returned on an everyday basis to the RBI, which means if they borrowed today through the VRR, money has to be returned to the RBI by tomorrow. This effectively means RBI is just managing it on a daily basis. The main culprit is the central government who is holding on to large sums of money as its capex push has not been happening at planned.

For instance, as of January 20, government's cash balance with the RBI was ₹75,000 crore, significantly higher than that of about ₹4,000 crore on January 15, 2025. Liquidity deficit swung from ₹30,000 crore to ₹3 lakh crore between December 16 and February 14 due to tax outflows, RBI intervention in the forex market and limited spending by the government, showed the central bank data.

The Mint Road has infused these vast sums of money through a slew of options such as daily VRR auctions of ₹26.79 lakh crore till February 18, the normal VRR auctions worth ₹16.38 lakh crore, open market operations in government securities worth ₹60,020 crore and dollar-rupee buy-sell swap auction of about ₹45,000 crore, showed the RBI data.

As liquidity conditions worsened in mid-January ahead of GST payouts, the RBI announced daily repo auction under the VRR route, which has become the most preferred route for the RBI to infuse money into the banking system as VRR typically mature the next day and allow the central bank to conduct another auction with higher amount. Malhotra assumed office just when liquidity started dipping due to advance tax and GST outflows, limited spending by the government and heavy intervention by the central bank in the forex market to support the rupee. Since December 11, the rupee has lost over 3.5% and had the shortest run-rate of 11 days to fall from 87 to 87.95 last week.

US SEC seeks India's help to probe Adani case

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

THE US market regulator - Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) – is seeking Government of India's assistance in its investigation of Adani Group chairman Gautam Adani and his nephew Sagar Adani over alleged securities fraud. On February 18, the SEC told a New York district court that it is making efforts to serve its complaint and is seeking help from India's law ministry for the same.

"Defendants are located in India and the SEC's efforts to serve them there are ongoing, including through a request for assistance to the Indian authorities to effect service under the Hague Service Convention for Service Abroad of Judicial and Extrajudicial Documents in Civil or Commercial Matters," SEC stated in a letter dated February 18.

"Additionally, under Article 5(a) of the Hague Service Convention, the SEC has requested assistance from India's Ministry of Law and Justice, the Central Authority for India under the Hague Service Convention. That process is ongoing, and the SEC will continue its efforts to serve defendants in India by the methods prescribed by FRCP 4(f) — including under the Hague Service Convention—and will keep the court apprised of its progress," stated the letter filed to a Judge.

Adani Group previously denied the bribery allegations and called them baseless. The group said they have always upheld and are steadfastly committed to maintaining the highest standards of governance, transparency and regulatory compliance across all jurisdictions of its operations.

In November 2024, the US Department of Justice announced the indictment of Adani Group chairman Gautam Adani and seven other individuals. The indictment alleges that between 2020 and 2024 the accused conspired to pay over $250 million in bribes to Indian government officials to secure solar energy supply contracts. These contracts were expected to generate post-tax profits exceeding $2 billion over 20-year period. The SEC charged Gautam Adani, Sagar and Cyril Cabanes, an executive of Azure Power Global, for conduct arising out of a massive bribery scheme.

ECONOMY

GDP likely to grow at 6.2-6.3% in Q3: Report

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Mumbai

THE economy is likely to grow at 6.2-6.3% in the December quarter amid the rising amid global uncertainties, even though the number is too low from an annualised reading as the economy had clipped at 8.6% in the year-ago period, according to a SBI Research report released on Wednesday.

However, third quarter growth rate is higher than the previous quarter when it fell to a seven-quartet low of 5.4%. The official growth numbers will be announced by the NSO on February 28. So far this fiscal, the economy has grown at a low 6.02%. As per SBI Research, the economy has likely expanded by 6.2-6.3% driven by stable rural economy, consistent wage growth, and strong agricultural performance.

The report said the likely higher growth print comes despite global geopolitical uncertainties and disruptions in trade and supply chains.

It said for the full fiscal ending March, the economy is likely to grow at 6.3%, which is among the lowest and 30 bps lower than the RBI projection.

"Impinging upon our in-house developed 'nowcasting model' that tracks 36 high-frequency indicators, we estimate that the economy would have grown 6.2-6.3% in December quarter. Presuming no major revisions announced in Q1 and Q2 figures by the NSO, we estimate full-year GDP at 6.3%," the SBI report said.

The report said the high frequency indicators showing acceleration has increased to 74% in Q3 from 71% in Q2 and attributed the momentum to a healthy rural economy.

Google opens new office 'Ananta' in Bengaluru

UMA KANNAN @ Bengaluru

GOOGLE on Wednesday opened one of its largest offices globally- Ananta- in Bengaluru. The new office can accommodate over 5,000 people, and will house teams including Cloud, Pay, Search and Android, among other units.

The company's executives at the launch event said it started six years ago and that Google expected the Bengaluru campus would be growing and was scouting for several locations.

Preeti Lobana, vice President and country manager, Google India, highlighted how India has always played a key role. "Our engineering presence in Bengaluru has been more than just a location. It's been a strategic nerve centre, a beating heart of innovations that power daily lives not just in India but around the globe," she said, adding the new Ananta campus we are focused on long-term performance, and I am confident we will create value for shareholders," he told TNIE.

On the listing at a 5% premium, Srikrishna said they are not focused on short-term stock price movements. "Our goal is to deliver strong performance every quarter for the next decade, and the stock price will take care of itself. A volatile market is a great opportunity for investors to buy into quality businesses like ours," he said.

He said the company has always been and will continue to be a management-run company. "While Carlyle has added value, they haven't changed how we operate. Nothing will change in our culture or DNA," he said when asked if new investors will bring about any change in functioning of the company. With 72% of its revenue coming from the US, Hexaware CEO said the animal spirits of Trump's policies far outweigh potential downsides.

marks a significant milestone in the company's journey, marking the technological paradigm shift underway with AI.

"As India has charted an ambitious new reality for its citizens with technology, Google has been its proud partner over last 20 years. Looking ahead, I see us focused on some core areas: empowering businesses and individuals through widespread AI adoption, ensuring AI transformation doesn't stay on margins of the economy but creates impact in its systemic areas such as agriculture, health and fintech," she said.

Hexaware Technologies shares zoom 8% on debut

DIPAK MONDAL @ New Delhi

HEXAWARE TECHNOLOGIES shares closed with a gain of 7.75% on debut after it got listed earlier at ₹745.5, at a premium of 5.3% to the issue price of ₹708. The shares of the company rose to the day's high of ₹788 before closing the day at ₹766.5.

Private equity fund Carlyle, which held 95% in the company, offloaded 20% shares in the company through an OFS-only initial public offering (IPO). The ₹8,750 crore public offer got 2.66 times subscribed with qualified institutional buyers' (QIB) portion subscribed 9.09 times. However, retail investors gave the IPO a miss with just 11% of retail investors' portion getting subscribed.

Speaking to TNIE, CEO R Srikrishna said that poor retail participation could be due to adverse market conditions. "The market has been volatile, with a difficult trading period when we opened the issue. However,

Power sector needs $76 bn investment

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

THE country's power sector will need investment of 1.5% to 2.0% of its GDP to meet 2070 net-zero targets, says Moody's in its report. As per the report, the total investments projected to range between $53 billion to $76 billion by fiscal 2034-35.

As per the estimates, power sector will need to channel substantial resources, including ₹6-9 trillion annually from fiscal 2026-51, which represents 2% of real GDP over the next decade, and 1.5%-2.0% annually through 2051. The funding required will be drawn from both public and private sectors, as well as domestic and foreign capital, to ensure India can transition toward its sustainable energy goals. Despite ambitious plans for renewable energy, a substantial rise in coal-based power generation is anticipated in the short term. The expected 450GW increase in renewable energy capacity will not be enough to meet demand.

Budget conducive for robust and sustainable growth: RBI economists

BENN KOCHUVEEDAN @ Mumbai

THE Reserve Bank analysts have welcomed the measures announced in the fiscal 2026 budget as "conducive for robust and sustainable growth," listing the consumption boost by way of raising the income tax exemptions limit and the many structural reforms, which all will go in augmenting investments in critical sectors, while rationalisation of taxes and expenditure will help the government maintain a stable macroeconomic environment.

In an article in the monthly bulletin released on Wednesday, RBI in-house economists said the "budget reaffirms the government's commitment to fiscal discipline while fostering inclusive, long-term economic growth, which will help the nation become a developed one by 2047."

"Towards this objective, the budget has announced several measures under four engines of growth–agriculture, small businesses, added investments, and exports propelled by innovation and structural reforms," said the article, which is not the official views of the central bank.

"Through structural reforms, augmented investments in critical sectors, and the rationalization of taxes and expenditure, the government seeks to maintain a stable macroeconomic environment conducive to robust and sustainable growth," the article said.

The government has continued with its focus on capex alongside consumption boosting measures which would help the economy to improve its growth momentum, said the article, adding with a fiscal deficit target of 4.4%, the budget balances consolidation and growth objectives.

On the government plan to move away from targeting fiscal deficit and focus on debt-GDP ratio as a medium-term fiscal anchor going forward, the article said it will help "preserve macroeconomic stability." In an article on the quality of public expenditure and its socio-economic impact, its author evaluates the trajectory and quality of public expenditure since the July 1991 reforms.

Creditors take 99% haircut in Reliance Big insolvency

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

FINANCIAL creditors of Reliance Big Private Limited, formerly promoted by Anil Ambani, are set to face a 99% haircut as part of the approved resolution plan in its insolvency case.

The National Company Law Tribunal (NCLT), Mumbai Bench, has given its nod to the resolution plan submitted by Manoj Kumar Upadhyay through his affiliate firm, ACME Cleantech Solutions Private Limited, for the revival of Reliance Big Private Limited.

According to the resolution plan, secured financial creditors will receive ₹3.5 crore against total admitted claims of ₹484 crore. Meanwhile, unsecured financial creditors, who submitted claims totalling ₹515 crore, will not receive any payments. The plan also includes an upfront cash infusion of ₹4 crore in the form of equity.

The total dues to financial creditors were of ₹999 crore.

Reliance Big Private Limited, engaged in radio and television activities, including the production of radio and TV programs, entered the Corporate Insolvency Resolution Process (CIRP) in August 2023 after failing to maintain security cover for its debenture obligations. Axis Trustee Services Limited, representing Franklin Templeton Asset Management (India) Private Limited, was the primary secured financial creditor.

Successful resolution applicant Manoj Kumar Upadhyay is founder of ACME Group, which is a renewable energy and independent power producers in India.

It has a diversified portfolio of integrated renewable energy solutions. These comprise solar, wind, hybrid, firm, and dispatchable renewable energy projects. The Group was founded in 2003 by Upadhyay, who is also the founding member of the Indian Solar Power Association.

JBM Ecolife bags ₹5,500 crore order for e-buses

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

JBM Ecolife Mobility, a subsidiary of JBM Auto Limited, said on Wednesday it has secured an order for 1,021 electric buses under the Government of India's PM e-Bus Sewa Scheme-2 initiative. Total order is valued at ₹5,500 crore. These buses will be deployed in Gujarat, Maharashtra and Haryana.

JBM Ecolife Mobility will be responsible for end-to-end execution. The project will be supported by a Payment Security Mechanism (PSM), ensuring timely payments to e-bus operators and enhancing financial sustainability for industry stakeholders. JBM claims these e-buses will clock over 32 billion passengers e-kms and would save over 1 bn CO_2 emissions over 12 years of deployment. "With a strong focus on innovation and infra development, JBM is dedicated to making electric mobility more accessible, efficient, and environment friendly," said Nishant Arya, Vice Chairman & Managing Director, JBM Auto.

Young, Latham lead charge as NZ down Pakistan

Will Young (107 off 113 balls) and Tom Latham (118 n.o off 104 balls) hit sparkling centuries to guide New Zealand to 320-5 on Wednesday in the opening match of the Champions Trophy in Karachi, marking Pakistan's first international meet in three decades. In reply, Babar Azam hit 64 while Khushdil Shah slammed 69 off 49 balls but Pakistan lost by 60 runs.

Rohit-led India on the hunt for another ICC title

2013 champs begin their quest with a tie against Bangladesh today

GOMESH S @ Chennai

AND just like that India are back in the middle of another ICC event. Less than a year ago they were crowned world champions in the shortest format as Rohit Sharma lay flat on the field at Kensington Oval, Barbados soaking in all the emotions. However, as he leads India on to the field against Bangladesh at the Dubai International Stadium, that victory has no relevance or hold.

Not just because the Champions Trophy is a different format, but also the fact that a lot has happened since then in Indian cricket. Rohit's place in Test team is not a surety, Jasprit Bumrah is injured and out of action, Mohammed Siraj is dropped and more importantly, captain and head coach Gautam Gambhir are desperate for a moment of glory at the global stage.

While they are very much aware of it, the last thing India would want is to go in too desperate. For a tournament like Champions Trophy where winning five matches on the trot will take you to the title, every match, every win, every decimal in the net run rate is important. Rohit knows it all too well. "Although, the 50-over World Cup is a little different because you get 10 matches to play. So, even if you slip a few matches, there is always a chance to come back. But in T20 and in this, we have seen that there are two or three league games. If you lose one match, the pressure on you increases. Every game becomes very, very important. We all know this. But don't think too much about it and drive yourself crazy. I just feel that let the game start and let's see where it goes," Rohit said on the eve of the clash against Bangladesh.

What will give him and the team confidence is that this squad is more or less the same as that of the 2023 ODI World Cup, especially the top four. And each one of them have had a good outing against England in the recent ODI series at home. Rohit got a century and so did Shubman Gill. Virat Kohli got fifty while Shreyas Iyer showed why he should be on the team list no matter what.

Men in Blue look to kick-start the tournament on a positive note against Bangladesh. A look...

SPIN TO WIN FOR INDIA?

While India captain Rohit Sharma said that they are looking at the squad as three all-rounders and two spinners, that they have five of them is an indication of the approach they could take. However, it will all come down to the dew factor, conditions and the opponent they face in Dubai.

Historically, Bangladesh have created trouble for most teams but have not been able to sustain it for longer periods of time. In a tournament like CT, every loss, every win will matter and a victory against India will not just be an upset, but also could prove to be the one that puts them on the front foot.

SHAMI OR ARSHDEEP?

India, it seems, will play two seamers and Hardik Pandya with Harshit Rana being the enforcer. It will come down to Arshdeep Singh and Mohammed Shami. The latter has all the experience in the world but has blown hot and cold while the former could prove to be the x-factor up front with the new ball.

INDIA VS BANGLADESH, DUBAI

Live on Star Sports and JioStar, 2.30 PM IST

"When we played that ODI World Cup, there were only a few hundreds that we scored, but we went on to score quite a few times, 350-plus scores, or 330 scores like that. We will not be looking at the individual milestones and stuff like that. We want to play whoever the two batters are in there; they have to do the job. And the guy goes in after that has a job to do as well. So, if seven, eight of us think like that, we will end up getting the score that we are looking for," said Rohit.

While Gambhir's footprint has started to show in the team's approach, this is a format that brings out the best in Rohit as captain and batter. And as someone who has been through a rough period in the longer format, the 37-year-old will be itching to make a mark once again.

It is the tournament where he sealed his position as an ODI opener 12 years ago, playing a crucial part in India's unbeaten run to the title triumph. Here, in Dubai, Rohit has another chance to stamp his authority as a modern day white-ball great, possibly for one last time at an ICC event. "You come here thinking that you want to lift the trophy, but there are so many things that you have to do right before holding on to that trophy. So that will be our goal, that will be our thinking, how we can think about just one game at a time and keep moving forward from there," said Rohit.

The first step towards it would be starting with a win on Thursday

Signs of promise despite loss for women

Action from the match between India and Germany at the Kalinga Stadium in Bhubaneswar on Wednesday | DEBADATTA MALLICK

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN @ Bhubaneswar

A YEAR ago, the Indian women's hockey side wasn't in a very good place. They had just failed to qualify for the Olympics, three years after agonisingly missing out on an Olympic medal. Their coach, Janneke Schopman, in a very revealing mixed zone interaction to two scribes, had poured her heart over the challenges of working in India. Rani Rampal, one of the finest players this country has seen, was left out in the wilderness. Savita Punia, a goalkeeper of some repute, was thinking about retirement. Suffice to say the team needed a pick me up.

A year after Schopman's resignation, team have taken several toddler steps towards addressing their long-term goal of qualifying for the 2028 Olympics. Harendra Singh, who had earlier coached the side in 2018, came back. Savita was encouraged to stay back. A women's Hockey India League, a first-of-its-kind league in the country, was created. A new captain (Salima Tete) was appointed. The side went on a week-long, first ever training-um-bonding camo at the Indian Naval Academy at Kannur last July. "This transformative camp," a Hockey India press release had noted at the time, "conducted in the disciplined environment of the INA", aimed to enhance the team's skills and foster a spirit of unity and resilience. Months into Singh's new job, there was the buy-in all coaches crave for when they walk into a new gig. A shiny title as they beat China at home to win the women's Asian Champions Trophy in November.

In terms of roster changes, there hasn't been churn. The players who featured at the Pro League one year ago are, by and large, part of Harendra's plans. There's a new energy in the contingent as they work towards the goal of qualifying for next year's World Cup as well as the Olympics in 2028. It's been a mixed bag at the Kalinga Stadium over the last five days. A win and a draw against England followed by two tight losses to Spain, with the second coming under the lights on Wednesday. In four matches they have played in this season's edition so far, the work-rate and off-the-ball movements have been evident. That there is some sense of cohesion in the team structure is visible... These are the sort of things coaches tend to look at in a competition like the Pro League, especially at the start of a new Olympic cycle. They did have opportunities either side of Spain's solitary goal but the finish let them down on many occasions. "I'm really pleased with the fitness the players have shown, even at the end, you saw how they were fighting," coach Singh said after the match. "They are right up there, fitness wise. They can match the levels of all the teams. But we still need to work on a few of the things. "We have to improve our decision-making process, we have closed the gap (to the top sides) but we need to start scoring goals."

Men's team beat Germany

The men's team posted a 1-0 win over Germany in Wednesday's evening match. Wednesday's results: Men: Spain 4-1 England, India 1-0 Germany. Women: India 0-1 Spain.

How Sam Ward retrained his brain to become England & GB's top goalscorer

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN @ Bhubaneswar

WHEN Sam Ward doubled England's advantage in the third quarter against Spain in their Pro League encounter on Tuesday, one of his best mates, Ashley Jackson, grabbed his phone to send his younger compatriot a 'well done' message.

That strike from the penalty corner was Ward's 138th for England or Great Britain according to the FIH website, overhauling Jackson who had 137 to his name. It has been some international journey for Ward, who had scored his first international goal at the same Kalinga Stadium in 2014. Over the last decade, Ward, now 34, has overcome a lot of hurdles, including fighting past 'one of the worst sports injuries in recent times'. During an Olympic qualifier in 2019, Ward caught a stray ball. It resulted in permanent loss of vision in his left eye as it tore his retina (he wears a custom-made white mask when he's playing).

After England's encounter against Spain on Wednesday, Ward, leading the scoring charts in this season of the Pro League so far (nine, one ahead of Belgium's Tom Boon), got intimate with the kind of training he has had to do compensate for the 'more than 70% loss of vision in my left eye'. "There's nothing I could do to get back my vision," he says. He had two choices. "Either wear my big boy pants or give up but I have never been the sort of person to give up.

"It's what it is. I worked hard. Depth perception is massive with two eyes. You have got to kind of retrain your brain and the eye that works well to kind of retrain that depth perception. I tracked a lot of hockey balls and caught a lot of tennis balls... it helped me get back."

The Indian duo won 6-3, 7-6 (7) to book a last-eight stage berth.

Bayern edge Celtic to reach last 16 in CL

AGENCIES @ Paris

BAYERN Munich needed a stoppage-time goal to see off Celtic and secure a place in the last 16 of the Champions League on Tuesday, while AC Milan were dumped out by Feyenoord and both Club Brugge and Benfica also advanced.

In Germany, Bayern were defending a 2-1 lead over Celtic in their play-off tie from last week's first leg but the Bundesliga leaders were unable to put the tie to bed, with Harry Kane hitting the bar before half-time. Instead it was Celtic who went ahead on the night on 63 minutes thanks to Nicolas Kuehn, the former Bayern player, who slotted low into the net after a failed attempt to win the ball by Kim Min-jae.

That meant the tie was heading for extra time, but Bayern ultimately would not need to go that far as they scored in the fourth minute of injury time.

Alphonso Davies bundled the ball in from close range to make the score 1-1 on the night and clinch the tie for Bayern 3-2 on aggregate. Vincent Kompany's team will find out their last-16 opponents when the draw is made on Friday, but it will be either German rivals Bayer Leverkusen or Atletico Madrid. Earlier, seven-time European Cup winners Milan were eliminated by Feyenoord, a 1-1 draw at San Siro taking the Dutch club through 2-1 on aggregate.

Tuesday's results: Play-offs (2nd Leg): Atalanta 1-3 Club Brugge (Brugge win 5-2 on aggregate). Bayern 1-1 Celtic (Bayern win 3-2 on aggregate). AC Milan 1-1 Feyenoord (Feyenoord win 2-1 on aggregate). Benfica 3-3 Monaco (Benfica win 4-3 on aggregate).

Gujarat reply in strong fashion vs Kerala

AGENCIES @ Ahmedabad

GUJARAT'S seasoned batter Priyank Panchal played a solid knock, remaining unbeaten on 117, as the former champs reached 222 for 1 at stumps on Day 3 of their Ranji Trophy semifinal against Kerala, here.

Trailing by just 235 runs with two full days remaining, Gujarat's batting unit showed resilience and intent on a placid Motera surface, where it seemed Kerala found themselves 100 runs short, having scored at snail's pace.

Resuming their first innings at 418/7, Kerala added 39 more runs before being bowled out for 457 just 10 overs into the morning session. Mohammed Azharuddeen remained stranded on 177 off 341 balls, his career-best knock featuring 20 fours and a solitary six.

Vidarbha extend lead

NAGPUR: Yash Rathod and Akshay Wadkar shared an unbroken 91-run partnership as Vidarbha took a lead of 260 runs against Mumbai on Day 3. After Vidarbha dismissed Mumbai for 270 to take a first-innings lead of 113 runs, the hosts were reduced to 56 for four, thanks to Shams Mulani's (2/50) two-wicket burst. However, Rathod (59) and Wadkar (31) steadied the ship. Brief Scores: Kerala 457 in 187 ovs (M Azharuddeen 177 n.o; A Nagwaswalla 3/81) vs Gujarat 222/1; 71 ovs (P Panchal 117 n.o, A Desai 73, M Hingrajia 30 n.o; N Basil 1/40). Lanning, Sutherland help Capitals beat Warriorz

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Chennai

THE final Women's Premier League fixture at the Kotambi Stadium in Vadodara lived up to the hype as Delhi Capitals defeated UP Warriroz in the last-over thriller by seven wickets to reach the second position in the points table.

Captain Meg Lanning's 69 off 49 balls along with some late fireworks from Annabel Sutherland and Marizanne Kapp helped the two-time finalists chase down 166 with one ball to go. Batting first, Kiran Navgire led UP's batting in the powerplay as she scored a half-century off of just 24 balls. Once Sutherland dismissed both openers, Shweta Sehrawat found a partner in debutant Chinelle Henry who helped UP cross the 160-run mark. The West Indies all-rounder smashed three sixes off Shikha Pandey who had a rare off day with the ball.

With this loss, UP are yet to open their account in this season of WPL. Brief scores: UP Warriorz 166/7 in 20 ovs (Kiran Navgire 51; Annabel Sutherland 2/26) lost to Delhi Capitals 167/3 in 19.5 ovs (Meg Lanning 69, Annabel Sutherland 41 n.o, Marizanne Kapp 29 n.o).

Focussing on grassroots to further Olympic glory: PCI chief Jhajharia

INDRANEEL DAS @ Chennai

THE sun was beating down on the blue track relentlessly. If not for occasional spurts of cool breeze across the JN Stadium in Chennai, the temperature would have reached summer heights. Some of the para-athletes were warming up outside while a bunch of them were competing at the National para-athletics meet here on Wednesday. They were oblivious about their afflictions and were lost in their own world of sport. For some this acts as a balm while for others it's an outlet of their emotions. There were a bunch of Paris Paralympic medallists like Navdeep Singh, Hokato Sema lighting up the show.

On the sidelines of the event was a sprinkling of guests. Devendra Jhajharia, president of the Paralympic Committee of India (PCI), was one among them. Since he took over from Deepa Malik last year, the Indian para-athletes have been performing well, reaching their zenith during the Paris Paralympics last year. India came back with a record medal haul of 29 medals — seven gold, nine silver, and 13 bronze. This was better than Tokyo where they managed 19. If the Rio Paralympics was considered a watershed moment, then Paris was a culmination of years of toil and hardwork, ably supported by the sports ministry. If the Olympics was not up to the mark, then Paralympics at least led to some success.

Incidentally, it was Rio where Jhajharia clinched his second javelin gold and went on to become one of the most decorated Paralympians when he won silver in Tokyo.

Jhajharia too is aware of what they had achieved in Paris. "The Rio Olympics was a big moment but when one considers the historic Paris medal haul, it was a moment for the world because the entire world never believed that we would win 29 medals. If Rio was the moment for India, Paris was the moment for the world," he said, adding, this was possible because of the government support.

Motivating parents is not easy but Jhajharia felt that if results do come then it gets easier. "We tell the parents that results are coming and the player will do well and eventually will get a job or can earn some money. We have to tell them they can play for India. Parents usually agree after that," he said.

One issue most para-athletes face is that stadiums are not built for them. In some there are issues ranging from accessibility to lack of PWD-friendly toilets.

It is the beginning of a new chapter for Nuseir Yassin, a worldwide YouTube sensation also known as Nas Daily, who is moving on from creator to CEO of his own marketing company

MINUTE TO MILLENNIUM

We found out that marketing is a real problem. The more viral Nas Daily got, the more people came to us saying 'help us do this'. So we saw that building Nas Daily for others was the opportunity that we wanted to double down on

Nuseir Yassin, YouTuber and entrepreneur

ANUBHAB ROY

Known for his addictive daily one-minute videos, Nuseir Yassin exploded into the sphere of popular media with his greater-known handle: Nas Daily. He started Nas Daily initially on Facebook where his vlogs could be received by his circle; it was only a matter of time before fame catapulted the project to the more public forum of YouTube. Having amassed a following of 13.9 million followers, Yassin has just started his own marketing agency – 1000 Media – which is set to get an office in Bengaluru soon.

When a personality makes a name in a niche, it can get hard to associate them with anything else; the immensity of Nas Daily can similarly make one wonder how smooth the transition is going to be from vlogger to CEO of a marketing agency. What is key to understanding this transition is the fact that the success of Nas Daily lies in positioning and narration: something integral to marketing as well. In Yassin's own words, "I think if I wasn't a video maker there would be no agency. The main reason we're building this is because we know how to do this. We know how to tell the story of a brand, a product, a country, an agency, a non-profit, or a cause; we know how to tell the story of something in video format."

The knowledge of 'how to do this' is reflected in Nas Academy (a video-making school) and Nas Studios (a production studio), which seem like more obvious consequences of Nas Daily. The success also means that there was a rising demand, and along with it, a demand for wider application; and it is this very demand that 1000 Media was born out of. The rising problem reached Yassin for a solution, which seemed to lie in replicating the same model that made him popular. As he states, "We found out that marketing is a real problem. The more viral Nas Daily got, the more people came to us saying 'help us do this'. So we saw that building Nas Daily for others was the opportunity that we wanted to double down on."

Despite the fact the 1000 Media model is directly based on the one that made Nas Daily a worldwide sensation, there are obvious differences in terms of approach; while the latter was born out of a personal desire to share, the former is innately a service-based operation. Yassin, who considers this the end of a chapter and the beginning of another, confesses, "Nas Daily is a private channel that helps me express my opinions. It's not for brands; I do whatever I want there. For seven years I've worked as a creator; my next goal through 1000 Media is to start a new chapter as an entrepreneur."

It is expressly made clear in the 1000 Media outreach that Yassin, as the CEO, would be directly and materially involved in the workings of the agency, effectively making it a personal project. The core ethos of the agency, according to Yassin, is connection. In his own words, "The core philosophy of the entire company is to bring people together. The way we bring people together is building bridges, creating content that makes people understand each other more. The whole point of content is bringing people together. If you were to summarise everything we do, it would be this." About his expansion to India, with bases of his company being erected in Bengaluru, Delhi, and other metros, Yassin adds, "We're launching in India. We already have significant clients there and we're doubling down."

A still from the film PIC: DEBASHISH NANDI

Morisika is a meditation on memory and the history of Assam's landscape

ANUBHAB ROY

VANDANA MENON and Debashish Nandi's Morisika, for a film so contemplative, has a lot to say. Weaved within the oral and choral aspects of the film, which recently won the Best Film award at the International Folklore Film Festival held in Thrissur, lie the beating hearts and lives of the people who touch the story and those the story touches.

The title Morisika, of Assamese origin, translates to 'mirage'; in Nandi's words, "This name came to us when we were halfway through our filming. For us, it holds two meanings; first, the way each story we chased led us to many more and morphed into something else as we got closer, much like a mirage in the open plains." Menon, a Bengalurean, continues, "Secondly, it is an inward journey of memory and loss and things shifting into something that brings new ways of remembering and hope."

Indeed, ways of remembering might be deemed as the thematic crux of the film. In this attempt of historicisation, even beyond the plethora of 'human' accounts the film is composed of, a sombre voice flows: Brahmaputra's. As opposed to the more common patriarchal tendency of feminising natural reserves, this river is considered male. Nandi says, "In Hindu mythology, Brahmaputra is the son of Lord Brahma. It seemed only fitting that the river would be male and that its voice would be of Dimbeshwar Da, a fishing village elder from Kolibari in Tezpur who, when not fishing, writes and directs Bhaona: an endangered form of community theatre." Nandi stresses, "There could be other tellings that look at the river differently, given that Assam has diverse communities whose relationships to it include different origin myths. We went with what we heard most often from different communities."

Bengaluru-based musician Jeevan Antony, with his brother, Mathew, scored the music for the film; talking about the process, he says, "I really enjoyed the collaborative nature of this project; it felt like a conversation we were navigating together."

As the team cherishes the win at the International Folklore Film Festival, Nandi hopes for a wider release. "The first thing we did was take it back to Gauripur, Tezpur and the cattle camp for screenings. Apart from that, it's slowly beginning to do the film festival circuit. We would definitely like to release it to a larger audience," he says.

'NOW, I'M FREE FROM THE FILM WORLD'

Popular singer Raghu Dixit bagged the Best Male Playback Singer Award at the recently-announced Karnataka State Film Awards 2019. Five years after Love Mocktail's release, he talks about staying away from the film world to collaborate with more musicians

Raghu Dixit

ANJALI RAM

With a distinctive voice and a unique blend of different genres, Raghu Dixit has become a household name for many music lovers. Recently, his song Kanna Haniyondhu from the film Love Mocktail received the State award recognition, five years after the film's release – once again proving art finds its way to the light even after years.

Despite receiving an award for the best playback singer, he credits it to the collective, meaningful contributions that have been made over the years. "The song was composed almost 20 years ago. I don't take this award for this particular song. Collectively, it all adds up...the little things you've done over many years finally amount to the award," he says, adding, "This is the first government recognition for my work."

The story behind the birth of the song was anything but conventional, going way back in time. "I first made the song for my band, then it found its way into the film. There were no lyrics written initially. But it fit into the scheme of the film and worked its way into it," he says.

Despite his recent recognition as a playback singer, Dixit now has chosen to bid goodbye to the film world. "I like making music for films as much as performing on stage but at the same time, rarely you meet people with like-minded professionalism and creative energies. So, if I find something like that, yes, otherwise, in the past five years, I've stayed away from films," he notes.

Signing off as a playback singer, he now enjoys collaborating with other artistes. "I don't think I have composed any good music on my own. It's always been collaborative; I love that energy exchange while making music with other musicians. Now, I'm free from the film world, so there is more time to collaborate with musicians from around the world," he says, adding, "I am a much happier person now."

His latest album, Shakkar, is a reflection of how deeply-rooted his music is with his journey, in this case, mental health. Despite it being influenced by his state of mind, he says, "It is probably the most positive, most danceable and happiest album I've written."

Please suggest some workouts that can help relieve period cramps.

Many people refrain from exercising during monthly cycles but certain exercises help relax and relieve period cramps.

- Kegel exercises can help strengthen the pelvic floor muscles. Imagine you're trying to stop the urine flow, squeeze and lift the pelvic muscles as if tightening them upwards, holding the contraction for a few seconds. It may be a little difficult to isolate and engage the muscles but with practice, you can master this.
- Practise Child's Pose (Balasana), Downward-Facing Dog (Adho Mukha Svanasana), Pigeon Pose (Eka Pada Rajakapotasana), Seated Forward Fold (Paschimottanasana) and Plough Pose (Halasana) which help improve blood flow and relax the uterine muscles.
- Low-intensity aerobic exercises such as walking and music-based group classes like aerobics can help release endorphins, improving mood and reducing cramps.
- Try walking on your toes and do deep breathing exercises to promote relaxation.

- Cross your right leg over the left leg at the ankles, aligning side by side.
- Inhale, raise your arms overhead, lengthening the spine.
- Exhale, hinge at the hips, keeping the spine elongated as you fold forward in Uttanasana, leading with your chest.
- Reach the mat with your hands. Open the arms on the sides and bend at the elbows, resting the palms on the respective sides. Elbows pointed out.
- Relax your head and neck towards the ground. Keep your legs engaged.
- Breathe smooth and deep for six rounds. Feel a gentle stretch in the hamstrings and lower back.
- To release, inhale and slowly rise to the standing position. Uncross your legs and realign in Tadasana Variation Feet Hip Wide. Relax for a while.
- Switch the cross of your legs and repeat the pose. Release and relax in Three Part Breath Mountain Pose.

LIMITATIONS

- Students who have severe migraine, lower back or neck injuries, disc herniation and degenerative spinal pathologies, undergone surgeries recently, sciatica, blood pressure, glaucoma, osteoporosis or scoliosis, hyper flexible people, women during pregnancy and menstruation, should avoid this practice.

BENEFITS

- Strengthens the hip flexors, front of the thighs, and abdominal muscles, mainly when deliberately activated.
- Relieves hamstrings, spinal and hip tightness.
- Stretches and strengthens the back of the hips, hamstrings, calves, and back of the knees.
- Relieves tension along the back of the spine and neck.
- Stimulates kidneys, liver, and spleen, mainly if you focus on the midsection. Improves digestion.
- Helps to draw your belly in.
- Reduces stress, anxiety, depression, and fatigue.
- Tones the urogenital system and is good for postnatal women after eight weeks of healing.
- Heals urinary incontinence.
- Helps the male reproductive system and nourishes the prostate gland.
- Eases symptoms of menopause, asthma, headaches, and insomnia.
- Therapeutic for infertility, osteoporosis, and sinusitis.
- Helps prepare the body for advanced poses.
- Forms part of sports yoga, especially for swimmers, climbers, runners, and athletes.
- Tones the muscles of the posterior leg, hips, and back.
- Promotes balance and harmony between the body and mind.
- Great balance practice for students who spend much time sitting or standing or feeling tired.
- Stimulates the Root and Sacral Chakras.

NUTRIWISE

FOR THAT EXTRA MILE

MARATHON running is not just about endurance and mental grit but also about nutrition. To optimise performance and recovery, careful meal planning is essential.

The right nutrition supports training sessions, aids recovery, enhances physiological adaptations, and helps maintain an optimal body composition and energy balance.

Meeting daily energy needs

Dietary surveys show that many endurance athletes fail to meet their energy and carbohydrate requirements, often lacking essential vitamins and minerals. This mismatch arises due to several factors:

- Suppressed hunger: Intense training can blunten appetite, leading to unintentional energy deficits.
- Gastrointestinal discomfort: Prolonged training can redirect blood flow from the digestive system, causing digestive issues.
- Desire for a lean physique: Many athletes adopt overly restrictive diets to maintain low body weight for better performance.
- Lack of meal planning: Busy training schedules can lead to poor food choices and inadequate energy intake.

Macronutrient needs

Daily caloric needs depend on factors like basal metabolic rate, training intensity, body composition, and environmental conditions. Running energy costs range between 47-71 kcal/kg of body weight.

CARBOHYDRATE INTAKE

5-7 g/kg/day for moderate exercise about 1 hour per day, 6-10 g/kg/day for more intense sessions of about 1-3 hours per day, 8-12 g/kg/day for high-volume training that runs over 4 hours per day.

PROTEIN

Marathoners should consume 1.2-2.0 g/kg/day of protein to prevent muscle breakdown and support recovery. Consuming protein post-exercise helps optimise muscle repair, as muscle protein synthesis remains elevated for 24 hours after training.

FATS

Fat intake should not fall below 20% of total calories. While omega-3s, conjugated linoleic acid (CLA), and medium-chain triglycerides (MCTs) have unclear benefits, limiting fat intake before a race may help prevent gastrointestinal discomfort.

COMPETITION NUTRITION

Pre-race carbohydrate loading ranges from 6 g/kg/day (<90 min races) to 10-12 g/kg/day (>90 min races), with a final top-up of 1-4 g/kg in the last 1-4 hours before the event.

Hydration and micronutrient

WATER AND ELECTROLYTES

Hydration strategies should start with 400-800 mL per hour, adjusted based on sweat rate, climate, and individual needs. Sodium intake should range between 300-600 mg per hour for those with high sweat losses.

NITRATES FOR ENDURANCE

Dietary nitrates from sources like beetroot juice (300-600 mg or 3-6 beets) can enhance oxygen efficiency and endurance.

ANTIOXIDANTS

Consuming antioxidant-rich foods like berries, green tea, and dark greens post-exercise can support recovery, though taking them before training may blunt adaptation.

CAFFEINE

A 3-6 mg/kg dose of caffeine taken 30-90 minutes before running can enhance endurance. For sustained performance, 'topping up' every 1–2 hours may help.

PROBIOTICS

Lactobacillus and Bifidobacteria strains may help mitigate gastrointestinal and respiratory symptoms in endurance athletes.

Marathon running is as much about smart fueling as it is about rigorous training. A well-planned nutrition strategy ensures peak performance, optimal recovery, and overall health.

NUGGETS

College hosts psychology fest

Kristu Jayanti College hosted Stimuli-2025, an intercollegiate psychology fest promoting mental health awareness on February 17. The event was inaugurated by Dr Dwarakanth Srinivas, head neurosurgeon, NIMHANS. He emphasised the importance of linking scientific research with psychological therapy to promote mental health. The fest had a variety of fascinating competitions that encouraged critical thinking, teamwork and creative problem solving such as quizzes, discussions and a treasure hunt with 140 students participating from 12 institutions. The valedictory address was presented by Rev Fr Emmanuel PJ, director of the college. Winners were awarded certificates and trophies and the ceremony concluded with a vote of thanks by the student coordinator.

Hospital recognised for its supportive workspace

Aster DM Healthcare achieved a Trust Index score of 82 and has been officially certified as a 'Great Place To Work', a globally-recognised benchmark for workplace culture and employee experience. The certification is based entirely on independent employee feedback and rigorous workplace assessment conducted by Great Place To Work, the global authority on workplace culture. This year, 90 per cent of employees expressed pride in working at Aster, and 89 per cent believe their work holds special meaning.

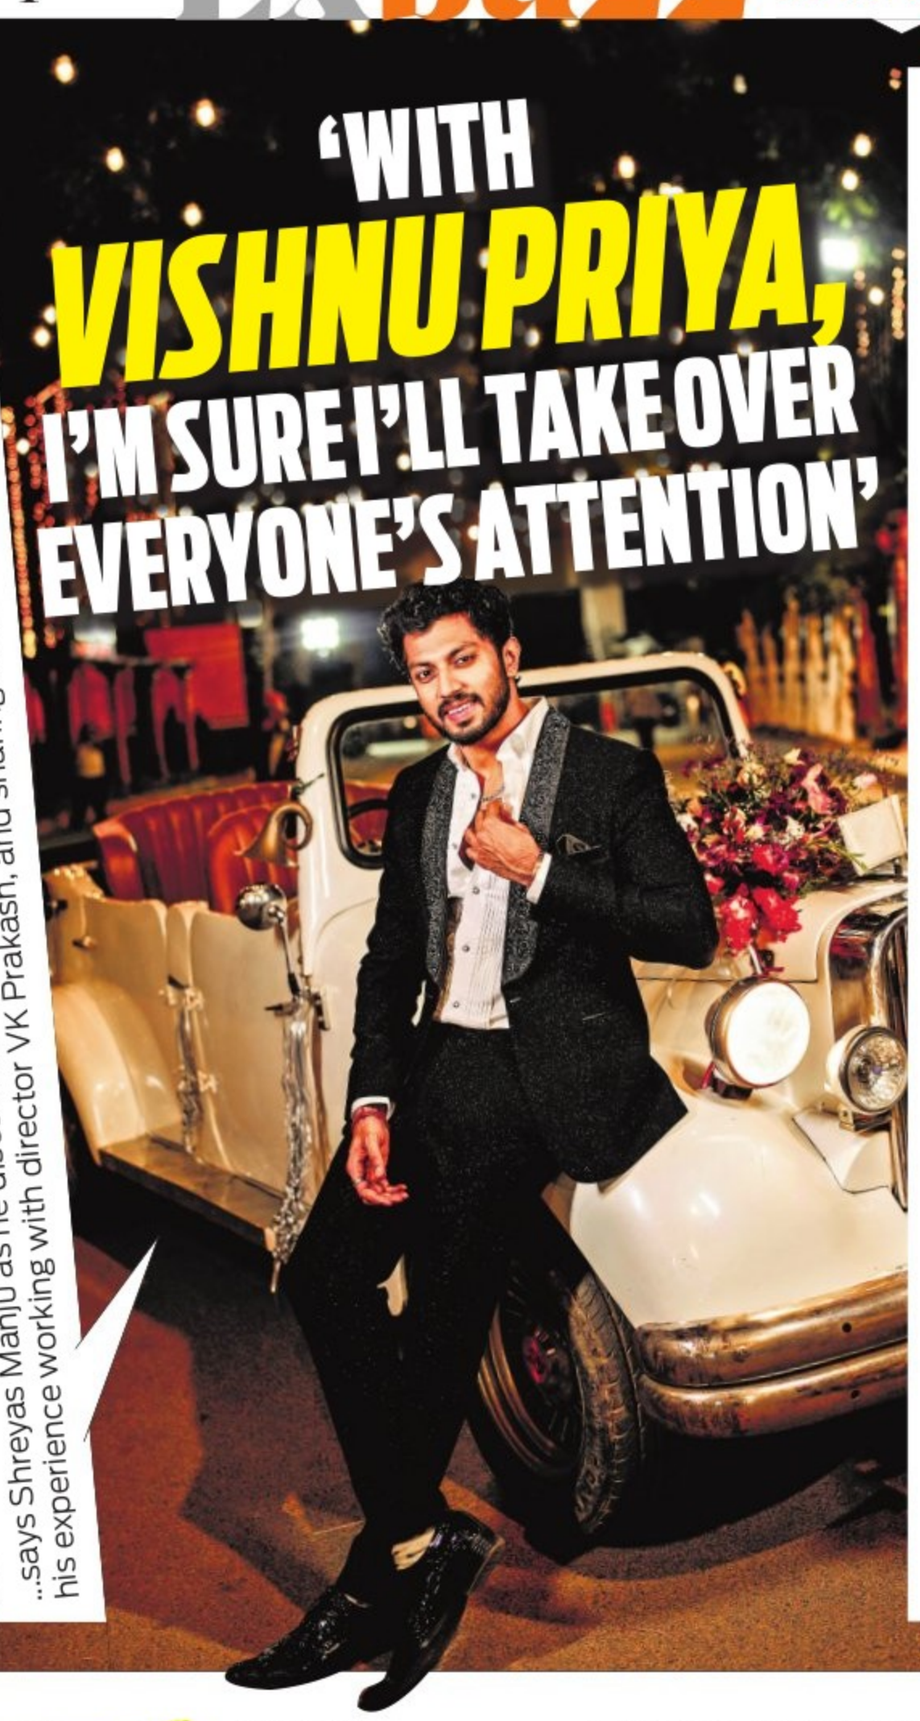
'WITH VISHNU PRIYA, I'M SURE I'LL TAKE OVER EVERYONE'S ATTENTION'

...says Shreyas Manju as he discusses at length the challenges it took to bring the film to the theatres, his experience working with director VK Prakash, and sharing screen with Priya Prakash Varrier



A SHARADHAA

THE release of Vishnu Priya is finally here, and actor Shreyas Manju, who has been anxiously waiting for this moment, is feeling a mix of relief and excitement as the release date of February 21 draws closer. "It's been a long time coming. My film is a love story, and as much as I love cinema, it was very hard to make this happen," Shreyas shares, talking about the two-and-a-half-year journey that has brought this dream to life.

While Shreyas is known for his acting, his role in the making of Vishnu Priya didn't stop at just performing in front of the camera. He took on multiple responsibilities behind the scenes, from editing the trailer and designing posters to cutting promos and managing reels. "Since the film took so long to make, many people who were initially on board moved on to other projects. I had no choice but to step in and ensure everything stayed on track," he explains.

The experience has taught Shreyas the importance of time management and teamwork. "I learnt to make cinema faster and keep everyone engaged. It's a tough game, but I had to adapt," he says.

Shreyas is aware of the struggles newcomers face in the industry, particularly when it comes to building trust with the audience. "Audiences today are hesitant to watch fresh faces. The reason is, there are big films that get overhyped, and when they fail to meet expectations, it leads to a sense of disappointment. That makes the audience feel cheated, and they stop trusting films with upcoming actors," he explains, expressing the harsh reality many in the industry face.

In this environment, Shreyas has observed a disturbing trend. "People judge a film or an actor even before they've seen the content. There's no trust in the new or unknown," he adds.

Despite his insights into the industry, Shreyas remains grounded. His role in Vishnu Priya requires him to embrace both innocence and intensity. "I play a character who is innocent but goes on an intense emotional journey. The script pulled me in. When I was initially considering working on a commercial film, director VK Prakash and producer K Manju suggested I go for a content-based subject. And that's how the idea of a 1990s love story came up," he recalls.

Working with his father as the producer of the film brings its own set of advantages and challenges. Acknowledging the same, he says, "I got exactly what I wanted, especially when it came to the action sequences and the production. There's no disadvantage, except that I have to work twice as hard because it's a film made under our banner. It's a lot of responsibility."

Vishnu Priya takes viewers back to an era that many of today's younger audience may not be familiar with. Shreyas found it challenging but rewarding to bring that era to life. "The director and the dialogue writer gave me a strong sense of the time period. It wasn't just about the clothes or the music; it was about capturing the essence of that era and translating it into something real," he explains.

The performances also had to align with the authenticity of the time. "The director made it clear that we needed to keep it real. He didn't want cinematic acting; he wanted us to portray the emotions more naturally, more like real people," Shreyas says.

Additionally, working with National Award-winning director VK Prakash was an invaluable experience for Shreyas. "He always works with two camera sets, which allows him to focus on the actor's expressions from different angles. He wants the performance to be as close to reality as possible," Shreyas shares.

Gopi Sundar's music and the stunning cinematography have played a pivotal role in the film's overall feel, Sharing his initial reactions, Shreyas reveals, "When I started filming amidst nature, I wasn't sure what kind of film I was making. The visuals were not what we consider 'stylish' today—it felt old-fashioned," he admits. However, as the project progressed, his perspective changed. "Now, I realise that this is the magic of cinema. The way it's all come together—especially with Gopi Sundar's crazy background score—has truly brought the film to life. The music is like the heartbeat of the story."

Vishnu Priya is an interesting mix of people from various backgrounds, including technicians and filmmakers who have come together to create a Kannada film. "The team is mostly from outside, and that gives the film a unique vibe. It brings a fresh perception to the storytelling," Shreyas explains.

At its heart, Vishnu Priya is a story about love, family, and sacrifice—universal themes that resonate deeply. Shreyas believes that the emotional core of the film is something that audiences will connect with. The backdrop of the 1990s, with its simpler times and old-world charm, adds to the film's authenticity.

Priya Prakash Varrier's debut in Kannada cinema is another highlight. Known for her viral wink in the 2019 Malayalam film Oru Adaar Love, the actor brings a fresh face to the screen, and naturally, many are curious about how the dynamic between the duo will unfold. However, Shreyas isn't intimidated by the presence of a popular face in the film. "Let this Friday come by, and I'm sure I'll take over everyone's attention," he says confidently. "It's an open challenge, and I'm confident about what I've put on screen. Priya is good, but this is my moment to shine, and I've given my all to the role."

When asked about his personal expectations for the film's reception, Shreyas has high hopes but remains grounded. "I am sure the audience will love me as an actor. I've poured my heart into this, and I'm excited to see how people appreciate my craft. This is not your usual film, and that's what makes it special. I'm eager to see how they connect with it," he concludes.

Sudeep to begin filming for Billa Ranga Baashaa from March

Director Anup Bhandari and his team, currently in production, plan to release the film in both 3D and 2D formats

CE FEATURES

KICHCHA Sudeep, who was last seen in Max, which witnessed a successful run at the box office, is now gearing up for his next big venture. While currently busy with the Celebrity Cricket League (CCL), his other passion, Sudeep recently announced on social media, that his next film, Billa Ranga Baashaa, will begin shooting from the second week of March, which brought cheers to fans, which are eagerly anticipating this project. Billa Ranga Baashaa marks Sudeep's second collaboration with director Anup Bhandari, after Vikrant Rona.

The story of Billa Ranga Baashaa by Anup Bhandari's set two centuries into the future. The film is planned as a two-part narrative, and the team currently in pre-production work has leased four acres of land on the outskirts of Bengaluru to create specialised sets for the shoot. The project is produced by Prime-Show Entertainment, known for films like HanuMan, and Sudeep's own Kichcha Creations is likely to be involved in the production as well. Anup Bhandari shared details of the scale of the project, highlighting the extensive VFX planning and custom-designed 3D sets. The film will be released in both 3D and 2D formats, which will be a visually immersive experience for the audience. Preparations for the shoot have been underway for several months, with most of the primary cast already finalised, and more additions expected soon.

The director explained that a significant amount of effort has been put into the design of both exterior and interior sets, ensuring a seamless integration with VFX elements. The shoot will progress without long breaks, and filming is expected to run continuously for 20 to 25 days, while new sets will be prepared simultaneously.

Building on the VFX expertise developed during Vikrant Rona, Anup is confident that the experience will be invaluable in bringing Billa Ranga Baashaa to life. Neetha Shetty, Anup's wife, will return as costume designer with technical details cast and crew to be revealed soon.

'We have dared to explore love in its raw unfiltered form'

...says director Mayur Ambekallu about his upcoming film, Bhaava Theera Yaana starring Tejas Kiran, Arohi Naina and Anusha Krishna

CE FEATURES

AFTER two years of dedication, Bhaava Theera Yaana is finally ready to meet its audience," says director Mayur Ambekallu, for whom the film, set to release on February 21, will break conventional boundaries. "It's not just another love story. We've dared to explore love in its raw, unfiltered form, challenging typical narratives we see in mainstream films," he adds. Most love stories follow a predictable pattern—a romantic crescendo, a conflict, and a resolution. But in Bhaava Theera Yaana , they've flipped the script. "We've dug deep into emotions that don't just entertain but stay with you long after the credits roll. It is also a film that the entire family can enjoy together."

Lead actor Tejas Kiran emphasises that the film is built on raw, untold truths about love and relationships. Arohi Naina reveals, "What I love about Bhaava Theera Yaana is its authenticity. Love isn't always grand gestures—it's often found in the quiet moments, the unspoken words."

Anusha Krishna shares, "When I first read the script, I was completely drawn in by how different it was. It's a love story, but it's not the typical romance you'd expect. It's a true reflection of life, love, and its unpredictable beauty."

Senior actor Ramesh Bhat notes, "Playing this character was like nothing I've done before. It's a role that challenges me and gives me the chance to step into someone else's shoes."

Producer Shailesh Ambekallu, alongside Lakshman BK, says the project was born from passion, with everyone working in harmony to create something truly unique. Bhaava Theera Yaana also features cinematography by Shivshankar Nooramba, with director Mayur Ambekallu composing the film's music.

I have travelled 25,000 kilometers for Yello Jogappa Ninnaramane: Hayavadana

A still from the film | Hayavadana

CE FEATURES

THE phrase 'Yello Jogappa Ninnaramane' from a popular Janapada song first gained widespread recognition through Prem's track in Jogi, starring Shivarajkumar. Now, this iconic line takes center stage as the title of Hayavadana's directorial debut.

The film features Kambli Hula star Anjan Nagendra, along with Venya Rai and Sanjana Doss in key roles. With a travel-centric narrative, the director went the extra mile—literally—journeying over 25,000 kilometers during production. Spanning ten states, the film's journey stretches from India's southernmost tip to the snow-capped Himalayas, with a 3,000-kilometer route making it to the screen.

Discussing the film, director Hayavadana shares, "It's a story about searching for something while also exploring the clash between a father and son, the struggles of the middle class, and the ever-present influence of social media." Set for release on February 21, Yello Jogappa Ninnaramane delves into the rarely explored genre of travel narratives in Indian cinema. The protagonist's physical journey across India's diverse landscapes serves as a metaphorical quest, highlighting human connections across cultural boundaries.

The director, who comes from television background along with actor Anjan Nagendra share details about their upcoming travel film

With a successful background in television, Hayavadana is well-versed in the visual medium. Having directed popular TV shows like Agni Sakshi, Nagini, and Kamali, he acknowledges the stark differences between television and cinema. "Television gave me a platform to experiment," he says. "But this film will break the stereotype that TV directors are confined to daily soaps and can't make sleek, cinematic films. For instance, my film's duration is just 2 hours and 6 minutes. I'm confident my debut will challenge this notion."

Anjan Nagendra, one of the film's leads, sees this role as a defining moment in his career. "Yello Jogappa Ninnaramane is my second step in the film industry after Kambli Hula. It's a film everyone can enjoy, and I'm thrilled to portray a character that feels fresh and unique. I hope the audience supports us."

Produced by Pavan Shimikeri and Sindhu Hayavadana, the film boasts music by Shiom, cinematography by Nataraju Maddala, and art direction by Hosmane Murthy. Promising a cinematic journey like no other, Yello Jogappa Ninnaramane aims to captivate audiences with its compelling storytelling.

Hayavadana concludes, "This is a film about life's journey. I hope it resonates with audiences—especially vloggers, travel enthusiasts, and those in the IT sector—who may find something truly meaningful in it."
